

Book Review Guidelines for Himalaya

Thank you for agreeing to review a book for Himalaya, the journal of the Association for Nepal and Himalayan Studies. Please follow the guidelines outlined below when writing your review.

- ❖ Summarize the book and contextualize it within current scholarship, assessing its contribution; indicate the target audience of the book and whether the book successfully addresses this readership.
- ❖ Avoid extensive description of the book's content; rather, evaluate the author's thesis and how he or she develops it.
- ❖ If the book is an edited collection of essays, or chapters by different individuals, discuss and analyze the overall theme and content, focusing on specific chapters only when you find them particularly significant.
- ❖ Citations from the book you are reviewing should include page numbers. Example: (p. 33) or (pp. 146-149).
- ❖ Citations from or references to other works should include the publication details: the name of the author(s) or editor(s), title, place of publication and publisher, date and page number. Example: Michael Hutt, Himalayan People's War: Nepal's Maoist Rebellion. (Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 2004), 34-45.
- ❖ Proofread your review carefully and double-check any use of romanization of foreign names and words and page references. Please do not use diacritics.
- ❖ At the beginning of your review, please include the full details of the book you are reviewing in the following format:

Title: Subtitle. By Author. Place: Publisher, year. Number of pages. Publisher's price (cloth), publisher's price (paper). ISBN.

For example:

Himalayan People's War: Nepal's Maoist Rebellion. By Michael Hutt. Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 2004. Pp. 336. $27.00 (cloth). ISBN 978-0-253-21742-4.
- ❖ At the end of your review, please include your full name (as you would like it to appear in print) and a 1-2 sentence bio, including your current institutional affiliation and complete address.
- ❖ Please limit your review to 800 – 1,000 words. If you would like to have a longer version published on the journal website, please contact Jessica Vantine Birkenholtz, book review editor, at jvanbirk@rci.rutgers.edu.

Thank you.
