General Information

Historical Sketch

Macalester College was opened on September 15, 1885. It is the outgrowth of two academies founded by the distinguished Minnesota pioneer missionary and educator, the Rev. Edward Duffield Neill, D. D. One of these schools was founded in St. Paul, in 1853; the other was established in Minneapolis, in 1873. Both were named after Mr. M. W. Baldwin, the famous locomotive builder, who was a close friend of Dr. Neill and a financial supporter of his first educational undertaking. In 1873 Dr. Neill solicited aid from Mr. Charles Macalester of Philadelphia for the purpose of developing the Baldwin School into an undenominational college of the New England type. The latter gave for this purpose the noted summer hotel at St. Anthony Falls, known as the Winslow House. In appreciation of this gift the proposed institution was named Macalester College, March 5, 1874.

Failing in his effort to secure adequate endowment for this college for men only, Dr. Neill asked the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Minnesota to adopt this college as a denominational institution. On October 15, 1880, by action of the Synod, it passed under Presbyterian control. The trustees of the college, in 1883, donated to the institution the forty acres on which it is now established. They then sold the Winslow House and from the proceeds thereof, in 1884, erected the east wing of the present main building. The same year the Synod completed an endowment of $25,000 for the president's chair, and in 1885 the institution was opened to students. At its opening the faculty numbered five professors; the student body was composed of six college freshmen, and fifty-two preparing for college in Baldwin School.

Because of the insufficiency of its resources financial difficulties multiplied fast after the opening of the college. In 1887 its net liabilities were over $37,000. Despite this debt the trustees proceeded to erect the main building at a cost of $68,000 and increased the indebtedness, by January 1, 1889, to $103,000. During the next ten years these liabilities grew larger until they totaled $180,000, and the college seemed hopelessly burdened with debt. Three presidents gave up the attempt to save the institution. But a group of loyal professors, led by the inspiring example of Dr. James Wallace, believed in the future of the college and kept its doors open.

From 1889 to 1898 Macalester College graduated one hundred students. In 1893 the college was made coeducational. Such was the character of the young men and women, who became alumni, that Christian people began to realize that Macalester College was doing an indispensable work for the Church and declared the institution must be saved.

Among the most active in this cause were Messrs. R. A. Kirk, R. C. Jefferson, George D. Dayton, Thomas H. Dickson and Professor Thomas Shaw. These influential men enlisted the financial support of many friends and in July, 1900, reported that the old debt had been liquidated.

Meantime, in June, 1900, they effected a reorganization of the Board of Trustees. In 1904 the first endowment campaign for $300,000 was launched. In July, 1911, the trustees announced that they had not only completed this endowment, but that they had, in addition, erected two new, modern buildings: Wallace Hall and the Carnegie Science Hall. In January, 1913, at the request of Mr.
Frederick Weyerhaeuser the trustees undertook the raising of a second endowment fund of $250,000, which was all paid in during 1916.

The rapid growth of the college necessitated the discontinuance of the Baldwin School in 1914. In 1918 the trustees, impelled by the growing demands of the institution, moved to secure a third endowment fund and $915,220 was secured.

In January, 1926, the Macalester Forward Movement was launched for $1,000,000; $500,000 of which is to be used for buildings and $500,000 for additional endowment. A total of $816,500 has been pledged to date and of this amount $400,000 has been paid in.
The campaign will continue until the total objective is secured which will raise the present endowment of $1,500,000 by the amount above indicated.

James Wallace, Ph. D., LL. D., 1894-1906.
Thomas Morey Hodgman, LL. D., 1907-1917.

*Deceased
Form of Bequest

The corporate name of the institution is Trustees of Macalester College.

Legal Form of Bequest.—I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Macalester College of St. Paul, Minnesota, duly incorporated under the laws of Minnesota, the sum of............dollars.

Location

Macalester College is located in Macalester Park, St. Paul, a beautiful suburb in the so-called Midway District. The location is favorable for study and for the development of wholesome college life. Easy access to the Twin Cities is afforded by the Grand Avenue and Snelling Avenue electric lines—the latter of which connects with the interurban lines. The public libraries, churches, lecture courses and musical entertainments of these cities offer cultural opportunities and the vocations in city life can be studied at first hand.

Campus

The campus contains forty acres with a frontage of six hundred and sixty feet on Summit Avenue. The college buildings are situated on the north half of the campus, while the ample athletic field and college woods occupy the southern half.

Buildings and Equipment

The Main Building contains class rooms, society halls, library, auditorium and executive office.

The Carnegie Science Hall is the gift of Mr. Andrew Carnegie. The basement contains a wood shop and a metal shop for applied mechanics. The first floor is devoted to physics and geology; the second to biology, mathematics and astronomy; and the third to chemistry. On the first floor the Lewis Collection of Indian relics is rare and valuable, as is also the Educational Collection of marine invertebrates and fishes contributed by the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. There is also a collection of about five hundred specimens, obtained and loaned by Gilbert L. Wilson, Ph. D., illustrating the culture of the Hidatsa and Mandan Indians.
Conservatory of Music, located on Summit Avenue, contains a recital hall and practice rooms, fully equipped.

The Men's Dormitory, which is now nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in September, is located on the corner of Lincoln and Snelling Avenues. It is of American Colonial style of architecture, built on the quadrangle plan in nine sections, each opening individually onto the central court, but all connected. There are no corridors, all rooms having a direct outside entrance. In most cases the rooms are so arranged to provide a study-room with two, and sometimes three, adjoining bedrooms. There are also some single study-bedrooms in one. The building will accommodate 142 students. One section contains a fully equipped, modern kitchen, commodious dining-room, and comfortable, home-like community room. In addition, there is a large recreation room provided for the enjoyment of indoor games.

Wallace Hall, situated at the corner of Summit and Macalester Avenues, one block from the main campus, is the dormitory for women, accommodating ninety-three students. This is a thoroughly modern fire-proof building. Besides the rooms for the young women there are three large parlors and dining rooms seating over one hundred.

Student government is organized at Wallace Hall, which in conjunction with the Dean of Women regulates the life of the Hall, in conformity to the customs and ideals of Macalester College.

Rice Hall, named in memory of Rev. Daniel Rice, D. D., a former professor and trustee, is a frame building facing the campus, the first floor of which is equipped for the College Health Service, containing hospital rooms, diet kitchen, small dispensary as well as nurse's quarters. The upper floor is used as an annex to Wallace Hall, the women's dormitory, and will accommodate ten young women.

The Gymnasium, of American Colonial Design, is thoroughly modern and complete, a structure 83 by 188 feet. The spacious main gymnasium floor is surrounded by a running and spectators' balcony hung 14 feet above the floor to allow ample space for bleachers beneath.

The first floor also contains a spacious hall, rooms for the athletic directors of men and women, check rooms, a kitchen adequate for large social events, apparatus and other rooms.
The second floor provides rooms for boxing, wrestling and social events.

The basement, which is almost all above ground, contains a standard swimming pool, graduated in depth, with spectators’ gallery along one side, separate men’s and women’s locker and shower rooms, with rooms also for checking and steam clothes-drying, athletic equipment rooms, team room, hand ball courts, and a field sports room.

The building is first class in all details of ventilation, plumbing, water purification and lighting.

Shaw Athletic Field, which was dedicated at the opening of the school year in 1909, was named in honor of Professor Thomas Shaw, former President of the Board of Trustees, on account of his interest and assistance in the athletics of the institution.

Library

The Edward D. Neill Library contains about 17,800 volumes and is located on the ground floor of the main building. For greater security the Neill collection is in Carnegie Science Hall. In this building also are department libraries.

The Neill collection, consisting for the most part of books presented by Dr. Neill or acquired during his librarianship, contains Americana and some sixteenth and seventeenth century editions in theology and the classics; there is also a valuable collection of autograph letters.

The Dewey system of classification is used.

One hundred and ten periodicals are on file in the Library or in the department libraries.

Toward maintenance of the Library there is set apart each semester two dollars and fifty cents of each tuition fee.

Henry L. Moss, a former trustee of the college, and his wife, bequeathed to the college an endowment which yields an income of $450 for the Library.

The Library is open as follows: Monday to Friday, from eight to six and from seven to nine-thirty o’clock; Saturday, from eight to six o’clock; holidays, from nine to twelve and one to five o’clock.
Other Library Privileges

The St. Paul Public Library contains, in its central building and permanent branches, 229,198 volumes. Of first importance in the central building is the Social Science Reference room, which contains the library’s resources in economics, politics, sociology, education and social work. There is also a reference room for the useful arts and one for the fine arts, including music. This library is located within fifteen minutes' ride by street car from Macalester College. Students may draw books for home use.

The James Jerome Hill Reference Library has a most carefully chosen collection of books on all subjects except law and medicine. In a special room is a noteworthy map collection. This library supplements the resources of other accessible libraries and affords unusual opportunities for study and research. College faculties and students are requested to use it freely. The James Jerome Hill Reference Library forms the east wing of the Public Library Building.

The Library of the Minnesota Historical Society contains about 162,000 books and pamphlets. It specializes in Americana, particularly that of the West, Northwest and Canada. It has one of the largest collections in genealogy and biography in the United States; extensive collections in American church history, local history and travel; and the most complete collection in existence relating to the Scandinavians in America. The Manuscript Department of the Society, with its important material, is open to qualified college students. The Historical Society building is located near the State Capitol.

Other libraries open to students are the State Law Library, 100,000 volumes, ranking fourth among the law libraries of the United States, also the Minneapolis Public Library, which has 293,000 volumes in its central building.

Registration

Students are required to register by the beginning of each semester. In case of delay in registration beyond the registration days indicated in the college calendar, a fine of one dollar will be imposed for the first day and fifty cents for each subsequent day. No excuses will be granted for late registration. Students may register by mail on deposit of tuition fee, subject to the entrance requirements stated on page 30.
No student is permitted to register after the fourth Monday of the semester.

Students registering later than the second Monday of the semester are required to secure permission from the heads of the departments in their respective courses.

For the first semester of the college year freshmen will present themselves for registration on Monday morning of the opening week. On Monday afternoon and continuing through Tuesday and Wednesday will be given a series of lectures on subjects of vital importance to new students by the President and various members of the faculty. On Tuesday afternoon registration of sophomores, juniors, and seniors will begin and will extend through Wednesday. Registration without penalty ends Wednesday.

The matter of excess registration is to be referred to the deans.

The student who has failed in half the work of one semester, counted by hours, may not register for the following semester.

Students whose influence is found to be hurtful, even though guilty of no serious breaches of order, will not be retained in the institution.

The prospective student should procure from the college an application blank in which his high school credits should be entered by the principal or superintendent and mailed by the proper school authority to the Registrar.

Examinations and Reports

Examinations are held at the close of each semester. A record is kept of each student's grades, a copy of which is sent to the parent or guardian at the close of each semester.

Students who secure a passing mark in a course are graded as follows: A, B, C or D, which mean excellent, good, fair and poor, respectively. Students who do not reach a passing mark are graded as follows: Con, I or F. Con, meaning condition, implies that the student has failed in the final examination and that the deficiency may be removed by his passing in a second examination to be given later. I means that the mark is withheld by the instructor because the work required has not been completed. F means failure in term grade. In cases of failure students may secure credit only by repeating the course. A Con becomes an F upon failure to pass the second examination.
Conditions incurred in courses of the first semester must be removed by examination within the first two weeks of the second semester; conditions incurred in courses of the second semester must be removed within the first two weeks of the following semester.

For private and condition examinations a fee of fifty cents shall be paid for each examination to the secretary of the faculty, who shall thereupon issue a permit. Private examinations will be authorized by the faculty only, and for the most urgent reasons stated in writing.

Degrees

Graduates of the College of Liberal Arts receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The degree of Bachelor of Music is granted to students who fulfill the requirements for such degree in the Conservatory of Music.

At least one year of resident work at Macalester with a minimum of thirty credits is necessary for candidates for a degree.

Prizes

Noyes Prize.—Mrs. D. R. Noyes has given $2,000, the interest of which is used as prizes for student scholarship. These are awarded to the first honor students of the senior, junior and sophomore classes.

Stringer Prize.—In honor of the memory of Mr. E. C. Stringer the college is able to offer an annual prize of $25, to be given to that student of the college, who, having not fewer than fourteen recitations a week, takes the first place in the preliminary oratorical contest, and represents the college in the state contest.

Paul Prizes In Extemporaneous Speaking.—In 1917 Rev. W. F. Paul of Minneapolis established the Paul Contest in Extemporaneous Speaking to be held annually during Commencement Week. For this purpose he offers each year prizes totaling $50, divided into three prizes of $30, $15 and $5.

Funk Prizes.—For the encouragement of intensive and original studies in history, Mrs. Lydia C. Funk offers $100 annually in three prizes of $60, $25 and $15. Contestants must be members of the senior class, majoring in history and having a standing in the department of at least B.
Prize Scholarships are offered to the first ranking student among the young men and also among the young women in each graduating class of an accredited four-year high school, provided the superintendent certifies that such students are of honor grade. Depending on the average grade during the freshman year, C, B or A, these scholarships are $60, $75 or $100.

The scholarship of $60 will be credited upon the tuition of freshman year. Any additional amount earned will be credited upon the tuition of the first semester of the second year.

Scholarships

Silliman Scholarship.—Offered by Mr. H. B. Silliman, of Cohoes, N. Y., and yielding $50 per annum.

Wallace Scholarship.—A gift of $1,000 by Dr. James Wallace and family in memory of Mrs. James Wallace, the interest of which is devoted to a general scholarship.

Synodical Scholarship.—This is made up of gifts from churches and individuals throughout the state and amounts to $2,830, the interest of which is devoted to general scholarships.

Williams Brothers Scholarship.—Louis H. and Charles R. Williams, of Minneapolis, have given $1,000, the income from which is for the aid of a student selected by the faculty.

Biology Scholarship—In memory of her husband, Dr. Archibald MacLaren, Mrs. Kathrine MacLaren, of St. Paul, contributes $50 to aid a student in the department of biology, who is selected by the head of this department.

Scott Scholarship.—Mr. William H. Scott, of Philadelphia, gives $60 for a scholarship awarded by the faculty.

McCabe Scholarship.—Bequeathed by Edward Everett McCabe of the class of 1914 and accepted as a general scholarship.

Crawford Scholarship.—A gift of $1,000 in memory of Ira Leslie Crawford, the income from which is devoted to a general scholarship.

Myers Scholarship.—S. F. W. Myers has given, in memory of his son, Carl Bertram Myers, $1,000, the income from which is devoted to a general scholarship.

Students who receive the benefits of the above scholarships, which are assigned by the college, are required to repay same if they leave the institution before graduation.
Shaw Scholarship.—Given by Professor Thomas Shaw, of St. Paul, to the nominee of the Central Presbyterian Church, of St. Paul, yielding $50 per annum.

Webb Scholarship.—Mr. E. A. Webb, deceased, gave $1,000, the interest of which is to aid a candidate from the Central Presbyterian Church, St. Paul.

Winona Scholarship.—The First Presbyterian Church has given $1,000, the interest of which is to aid a candidate nominated by this church.

The H. W. Coffin Scholarship.—Established by Mrs. Mary E. Coffin of Duluth, to be used by relatives of the H. W. Coffin family, young people from the Glen Avon Presbyterian Church, Duluth, or for students for the ministry or missionary service. Beneficiaries of said scholarship to be given precedence in the order named. This scholarship yields $150 a year.

Macalester Scholarship of St. Paul Presbytery.—Amounting now to $1,139, the interest of which is to aid a student nominated by the Presbytery of St. Paul.

James Mulvey Memorial Scholarship Fund of the First Presbyterian Church of Stillwater.—Founded by subscriptions of $1,100 each by the Misses Jessie and Edna Mulvey in memory of their father; increased by gifts of the Stillwater Presbyterian church; amounts now paid in total $2,077. Interest to aid a student nominated by the Stillwater church.

Ministerial Scholarships.—Given by Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church to candidates for its ministry, and to men and women candidates for missionary service.

New England Scholarship.—The St. Paul Colony of New England women gives this year $60 to a young woman of New England parentage.

Rhodes Scholarships.—In order to keep this well-known bequest before the minds of present or prospective students it is briefly mentioned. Circulars of full information can be obtained at the President’s office. Any male student who is a citizen of the United States, unmarried, not less than nineteen nor more than twenty-four years of age and who has reached the end of his sophomore year of study, may be a candidate for one of the Minnesota scholarships. This insures to the winning contestant a three years’ residence in Oxford University, England.
Loan Funds

Faculty Women's Club.—A fund of $2,000, held by the Faculty Women's Club, is used for short period loans, preferably to junior and senior students.

The Harmon Foundation Loan Fund.—This is a fund to give financial aid to those students who, without it, would be forced to discontinue their college course. The fund is administered by the Harmon Foundation through a committee of the faculty. Loans may be granted to deserving students in amounts not to exceed $200, at six per cent interest. The cooperative feature of the plan obviates the giving of collateral. Repayment of the loan is made in installments commencing not later than one year after the student leaves college. This fund is not available for freshmen.

Dames of the Round Table.—This is a fund of $300, established in memory of Mrs. Jennie E. Straight, to be used for loans, without interest, to students. A loan from this fund is to be repaid not later than one year after the student has left college. An extension may be granted at the discretion of the college with the consent of the donors.

Student Activities

The Y. M. C. A. has a membership of about eighty students. It holds its regular meeting every Tuesday morning. A committee of the association is present at the college two or three days before the opening of the first semester to assist the new students.

The Y. W. C. A. offers social, educational and religious advantages to the women of the college. It binds all the women together into one common fellowship of love and service thru its regular Tuesday morning meetings, Mission and Bible study classes as well as social affairs.

Literary Societies.—In the college there are eight literary societies under the general oversight of the faculty. The Hyperion society admits to membership both men and women; the Athenaean, Alethean and Eulogian societies admit men and the Clionian, Philotian, Thalian and Platonian societies, women.

Chi Phi Delta.—This is a social and discussion society for self-supporting women.
The Quill Club.—Students whose work in the English Department is of sufficient merit to be published in the Gateway Magazine are eligible for membership in the Quill Club. Meetings of the club are held every two weeks, when a literary program is given.

Macalester College was the sixth in the United States to be admitted to the American College Quill Club.

The Macalester Players is a group within the Department of Expression, whose object is to stimulate and develop an appreciation of the best in drama. Several plays are given each year, coached by the head of the department.

Debate and Oratory.—All matters pertaining to debate and oratory are under the charge of Pi Kappa Delta.

The college takes part in the State Intercollegiate Contest in Oratory and is a member of the State Intercollegiate Debate League. A preliminary home contest is held for each of these contests, for which suitable prizes are offered.

Pi Kappa Delta.—This is a national honorary fraternity, organized to give recognition to those who distinguish themselves in public speaking, and to promote interest in forensics.

The Charter of the Macalester or Minnesota Alpha Chapter was granted by the National Council in 1920.

Membership in Pi Kappa Delta is based on election, being limited to professors of public speaking and those who have represented the college in intercollegiate forensic contests.

The local Chapter interests itself in all forms of forensics, and has assumed the secretariats of the Minnesota High School Discussion League and the High School League in Extemporaneous Speaking.

Interscholastic Forensic Competition.—Macalester College has taken a great interest in developing a more natural, effective manner of public speaking among the high schools of the state. To further that end it organized the Minnesota High School Discussion League which is now starting on its twelfth year, and the High School League in Extemporaneous Speaking which is starting on its tenth year. The state has been organized into districts and the winners of the district contests come to Macalester the third week in February where the state contests are held. Macalester College furnishes medals for the winners of district and state contests and shields for the winning schools.
College Glee Club.—This is a men's student organization, firmly established and with a splendid record of accomplishment in the thirteen years of its existence. The club is under the direction of a faculty adviser.

Girls’ Glee Club.—A well-established undergraduate organization of women under the direction of a faculty adviser.

The M Club was organized December 9, 1913. It was founded to keep those who have won the letter in touch with one another and to foster athletics. When a Macalester student has earned an M he becomes a member on the payment of one dollar initiation fee.

President, G. L. Brownlee, 460 Macalester Avenue, St. Paul.

Sigma Delta Psi.—This is the national athletic fraternity which stands for the comprehensive intelligent development of physical training for college men.

The Macalester Chapter was established February 18, 1925.

No literary society or other student organization may be established without the consent of the faculty.

Pi Phi Epsilon Society

The society was organized in 1914 with twenty charter members. The aim of the society is to stimulate scholarship and intellectual interests in the college. It regards scholarship, intellectual leadership, originality and character as the requisites for eligibility to membership.

New members are chosen by the faculty in the fall of each year. Of these not more than four are taken from the sophomore class, the remainder from the junior and senior classes. Those selected from the sophomore class are chosen strictly on the basis of high standing as students, as shown by the records of the Registrar. Others are elected by ballot of the faculty from a list nominated by the advisers and heads of departments. Nomination is made on the ground of unusual proficiency in the student’s major subject. After the above are chosen the faculty may elect not to exceed two more from a list that includes worthy students not otherwise eligible. At the close of the school year members of the graduating class who have exceptionally fine records thru their senior year may be added to the society.

At graduation active members become graduate members of the society, and are entitled to all its privileges except voting. Members of the faculty are honorary members of the society.

The society has an active member’s pin of silver, which is presented to each new member at the recognition exercises when he enters the society, and a graduate member's pin of gold, which is presented to graduating members after the Easter vacation.

The executive committee of the society is composed of the officers together with a faculty representative.

Religious Life and Exercises

Macalester was founded as a Christian college. The atmosphere of the college has always been warmly religious. The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations are large and active. The city offers much opportunity for religious work. In keeping with the purpose of the founders of the college the faculty makes the following requirements:—(1) Courses in Religious Education; (2) attendance at the daily chapel exercises. Attendance at Sunday church service is expected of all students. Students connected with churches either by membership or sympathies are expected to attend the church of their preference.

The Macalester Church has initiated a system of affiliated memberships, by which the student who wishes may retain his membership with his home church while at the same time coming into such relation with the local church at the college that he may feel that he has here a church home and center for his religious life. Students are urged to take advantage of this offered affiliation.

Teachers' Bureau

The faculty committee on appointments maintains a bureau for the placement of seniors in the field of public school teaching. There is no fee for this service. Particulars may be found under Department of Education.

Publications

The following publications are issued from the college:—

The Macalester College Bulletin, a quarterly devoted to the advertisement and advancement of the institution.

The Mac, a triennial publication devoted to college interests published by the college students.

The Mac Weekly, a student publication established in 1914. It gives expression to student opinion upon matters of college life, and gives complete accounts of all college events.

The Gateway, a literary magazine published by the members of the college Quill Club.
Health Service

The college provides this service to safeguard the health of students. The department endeavors to work in close cooperation with the Department of Physical Education. Entrance medical and physical examinations are held jointly and the records are used in both departments for follow-up work and for making up classes in corrective exercises. In cases where it seems advisable, further clinical examinations may be required. These examinations are designed to discover defects or tendencies which may and should be corrected; to protect the individual against work for which he is physically unqualified; and to guard the college community against communicable disease. No student may report for classes before his medical and physical examinations are completed. Appointment cards are given by the Dean at the time of registration. Special stress is laid on everything pertaining to health welfare and a sound physical development.

The college maintains a well-equipped Infirmary in Rice Hall, with rooms for both men and women. The Health Director, a graduate nurse, is in residence, and her service is available for all students suffering from minor illnesses or injuries. The nurse acts under the direction of a physician in all cases.

An appropriation is made for this service from the tuition charge, which covers entrance medical examinations, nursing care in all minor illnesses, all office consultations, medicine and dressings, and the use of the infirmary for a period of three days. For a longer period the rate is $1.00 per day.

Arrangements will be made with hospitals in the city for all cases of contagion and surgery.

In cases of prolonged or serious illness, the college may call a special nurse. The expense of this service is borne by the patient.

A medical examination blank is sent to each new student to be filled out by the family physician and sent to the college before entrance.

Expenses

Tuition and fees must be paid at the beginning of each semester, before completion of registration and before the student is admitted to classes. A loan fund, administered by the President at his discretion, is available for a limited number of students who cannot satisfy this specific requirement.

Tuition, regular student ................................................ Semester $87.50

*This is a deposit fund. The actual fee charged will be based upon the cost of material.

An exchange fee will be charged on all out-of-town checks.

The maximum refund on tuition for students leaving college at any time after registration will not exceed $75.00.

Credits will be withheld until all obligations are met.

From tuition fees the trustees, on recommendation of the faculty and students, appropriate the following amounts: athletics $5.00; library, $2.50; band, orchestra, debate and oratory, 50 cents; "The Mac", 50 cents; "Mac Weekly", $1.25; health service, $2.50.

If a student leaves the institution at any time after entrance without the approval of the faculty, or because he has been suspended or dismissed, no money is refunded.

Students working for the college will have all bills due the college deducted from the amount due them before being paid for work performed.

Students who are in arrears at the end of any semester will be refused credits for the semester's work until all bills incurred by them have been paid; also future registration will be denied and no class work allowed until settlement satisfactory to the Treasurer has been made.

Special Rates

1. Sons and daughters of ministers of any denomination are allowed a rebate of twenty per cent each semester on tuition.

2. All candidates for the ministry, of whatever church or denomination, are allowed a rebate of twenty per cent each semester on tuition upon the following conditions:—
(1) Candidates for the Presbyterian ministry shall be under the care of presbyteries, and shall present to the Treasurer certifications to this fact from the clerks of the presbyteries. Candidates for the ministry of other denominations shall have their purpose to enter the ministry properly certified to by the proper ecclesiastical authorities.

(2) All such students will be held in honor bound to refund to the college treasury the amount of tuition rebated in the event of their abandoning their purpose to enter the ministry.

3. When more than one person from the same family attend college at the same time a rebate of $4 on tuition fee will be allowed to each person after the first. This rule does not apply to those receiving other privileges or rebates.

Rooms and Board

Room rents for all college buildings and board at Wallace Hall and the Men's Dormitory are to be paid in advance each semester, except as arrangements are made with the accountant for quarterly payments.

Wallace Hall for Women—
  Board, per semester, each person ......................... $110.00
  Room rent, per semester, each person ..................... $50.00 to 62.50

Rice Hall for Women—
  Room rent, per semester, each person ...................... 50.00

Men's Dormitory—
  Board, per semester, each person .......................... 100.00
  Room rent, per semester, each person ..................... $50.00 to 70.00

No deductions are made on board except for illness lasting a month or more. Students leaving the institution because of illness will receive an equitable percentage on board paid.

Students are charged for their rooms by the semester and until they are formally vacated and keys surrendered. Each dormitory tenant is held responsible for the rent for the entire semester, whether he has occupied the room continuously or not.

Each tenant is required to deposit $5.00 (including deposit for key) as a guarantee against damage to college property, and to make it up to that amount at the opening of each semester thereafter. From this fund are deducted (1) charges for damage for which he is personally responsible; (2) charges (pro rata) for damage done by unknown hands. The surplus, if any, is refunded to the students at the end of the year, or when they leave college.
Rooms

There are two types of rooms in the men's dormitory: 1st, a study with two, or three, adjoining single bedrooms; and 2nd, one room comprising both study and bedroom.

The study is furnished with table, bookcase, chairs and desk light.

Each bedroom is provided with single bed, mattress, pillow, dresser and wardrobe. Sheets, pillow-cases, as well as curtains for all windows are also furnished. Students must provide their own blankets, towels, rugs, and any additional fixtures they may desire.

As indicated, the prices of these rooms vary, ranging from $50 to $70 per semester, depending upon location, floor space and other specified conditions.

In Wallace Hall each room has single beds, mattresses, pillows, dresser, study table, two rockers, two study chairs and a lavatory with hot and cold water.

The drawing of rooms in the dormitories will take place on the first Tuesday in May for those who live in the dormitories. On the second Tuesday in May for those who do not live in the dormitories. After the third Tuesday application for rooms from outside will be filled. Drawings will be under the direction of the Deans.

Application for room in the dormitories should be made by the first of May to the college office. Reservation fee is $10.00. This is applied on first month’s rent. Rooms will not be held later than the opening of the term unless the room rent is advanced for the period of delay. In case applicants fail to come the reservation fees will not be returned. Rooms will be assigned in the order of application.

Students who do not live at home or with relatives are required to room in a college dormitory, insofar as accommodations are available.

If all dormitories are filled, students may secure living accommodations from a list of rooms approved by the college authorities. Such students are expected to conform to the general social regulations in force in the college dormitories. Change in residence shall be made only when officially approved.
Self-Support

Students desiring to do something toward defraying their own expenses can usually find a way of doing so. Many find work on Saturdays, in stores and other places of business, and have thus paid a large part of the expense of their board. Others have earned their board by working mornings and evenings. It is seldom that any worthy, capable student with energy and tact fails to find some means by which he may work his way thru college, provided the summer vacation is improved to increase his income.

The Y. M. C. A. employment bureau has been organized to assist students in finding work. There are opportunities for work in stores and offices, caring for furnaces, waiting in clubs and carrying newspapers, and in many other ways dependent upon the student's fitness. Valuable suggestions as to employment and the financial side of college life are gladly furnished to prospective students on application and every effort to assist the newcomer is cheerfully made. Address all communications to Chairman Employment Committee, Macalester College, St. Paul.

For women students, there are many opportunities each year to assist in homes near the campus. The uniform rate of four hours' service a day in exchange for room and board has been established, and about thirty girls avail themselves of this opportunity every year. Further information may be secured from the Dean of Women.
Entrance Requirements

General Statement

Entrance requirements are in harmony with the standards of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the Association of American Colleges of which two organizations Macalester College is a member.

The satisfactory completion of fifteen units of properly coordinated work is required for admission to the freshman class of the college. The following units are required: four in English (or three in English and two in a foreign language), one in Algebra and one in Geometry. Not more than three units in vocational subjects (including Agriculture, Commercial Work, Domestic Science and Manual Arts) may be presented. Exception to this last requirement may in rare cases be made on the ground of otherwise superior fitness for college work and only upon approval by the cabinet and the faculty. It is strongly recommended that the student submit two or more units of consecutive work in some foreign language. By a unit is meant four or five recitation periods a week in a subject, carried throughout a year of thirty-six weeks. The recitation periods must be not less than forty minutes in length.

Admission by Certificate

From Accredited High Schools and Academies.—Graduates of accredited high schools and academies requiring a four-year course are admitted without condition to the freshman class, subject to the requirement of the preceding paragraph. Accredited schools are those on the list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the list of Minnesota high schools prepared by the State Superintendent and similar lists of the high schools of other states.

From Accredited Three-Year Senior High Schools.—Graduates of senior high schools, covering the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, are admitted without condition, provided they have in this time completed eleven or twelve units in the senior high school and provided that the subjects taken in the senior high school, together with the work done in the junior high school, satisfy the subject requirements stated above.

Applicants for admission to the freshman class should apply to the Registrar for the Applicant's Blank, which should be filled out by the principal of the high school or academy in which their courses were taken, and mailed by him to the Registrar.

From Unaccredited High Schools and Academies.—Graduates of such schools should secure the Applicant's Blank from the Registrar of the college, and have it filled out and sent to the Registrar as in the case of accredited schools. The credits will then be evaluated by the Registrar of the college and if satisfactory the student will be admitted.

Admission by Examination

Students not presenting certificates as provided for above must present a course of study equal to a four-year high school course. Such students will be examined in the course presented by them and will be admitted to freshman standing on passing the examination satisfactorily. These examinations will be given on the Monday and Tuesday preceding the opening of the college in September.

Suggestions to Students Preparing for Macalester College

The following suggestions respecting high school courses are not mandatory, but may be of value to future college students, now in high school or academy.

Suggested Units.—Students intending to major in Groups I or II (see page 34), are advised to present the following units for entrance:

| English 4 | Algebra 1½ or 1 |
| Latin 4   | Geometry 1½ or 1 |
| Modern Language 2 |

The remaining units may be selected from the following:

| History 1 or 2 | Physics 1 |
| German 2      | Civics ½ |
| Greek 2       | Physiology ½ or 1 |
| French 2      | Zoology ½ or 1 |
| Chemistry 1   | Physical Geography ½ or 1 |
| Botany ½ or 1 | Manual Training ½ or 1 |

Students intending to major in Group III are advised to present the following ten units:

| English 4 | Algebra ½ |
| German or French 2 | Geometry 1½ |
| Chemistry or Physics 1 |

The remaining five units may be selected from the following:

| Chemistry (if not above) 1 | Physics (if not above) 1 |
| Botany ½ or 1               | Physiology ½ |
| History ½, 1 or 1½         | Greek 1 or 2 |
| Zoology ½                  | Physical Geography ½ or 1 |
| French 1 or 2              | German 1 or 2 |
| Manual Training ½           | Civics ½ |
Suggested Courses of High School Study.—The following courses of study are suggested to students now in high schools who are preparing for entrance to Macalester College. Courses such as these will furnish substantial preparation for the work of the college and will articulate well with its courses:

Composition and Rhetoric 2 units
Latin 2 or 4 units
Greek, French or German 2 units

Literature 2 units
History and Civics 2 units

Algebra $1\frac{1}{2}$ units
Natural Science 2 units

Geometry $1\frac{1}{2}$ units

Admission with Advanced Standing

From Other Colleges.—Students coming from accredited institutions of collegiate grade must present letters of dismissal and are then given standing in Macalester College, allowing a fair equivalent on the course here for work done elsewhere.

Students with failures in another college cannot be transferred to Macalester without the loss of other credits based upon an estimate of their abilities. No one dropped from the rolls of another institution because of low standing will be accepted at Macalester during the same college year.

From Normal Schools.—Credits from Normal Schools are to be reckoned according to the nature and quality of the work presented as judged by the Registrar.

From High Schools and Academies.—Ordinarily, no credit will be allowed on the college course for excess units of work done in the high school or academy. A student asking for such credit should note the following conditions:

1. No credit will be allowed except for an excess beyond seventeen units of high school or academy work.
2. No credit will be allowed except after an examination by the college instructors to whose departments the subjects belong.
3. In no case will credit be given for more than half the time which the subjects consumed in the preparatory school course.
4. The Registrar will decide which of the student's excess units may be submitted for college credit.

All credits from other institutions, for which the student wishes credit in this institution, must be presented at the time of registration. Credits presented later from other institutions will not be considered.
Requirements for Graduation

The College of Liberal Arts offers courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Requirements for Graduation are:—

A. One hundred and twenty-six academic credits, the term credit meaning one hour a week for one semester in classroom or two hours a week in laboratory. Of these required credits at least thirty-two must be from courses numbered three hundred or above and not more than thirty-two may be in any one department. These credits must be secured with reference to the group from which the student has chosen his major.

B. 126 honor points, granted as follows: for each credit toward graduation earned by the student with a mark of A, three honor points are given; for each credit with a mark of B, two honor points; for each credit with a mark of C, one honor point. A mark of D carries with it no honor points.

C. 5 points in Physical Education, the term point meaning the satisfactory completion of a semester course in Physical Education. Of these 5 points 3 must be secured in courses 101-102, 103 and 201-202.

Academic Credits Required of All Students:

(1) 8 credits in Religious Education. These must include courses 101 or 106, and 201.
(2) 6 credits in English 101-102.
(3) 6 credits in Social Sciences and History.
(4) 6 credits in Philosophy 201 and 205.

Additional Academic Credits for students with a major in one of the following groups:

Group I.—

(1) 28 credits in a foreign language.
(2) 14 credits in a second foreign language.
   Of the above (1) and (2) at least 14 credits must be secured in college. In the case of the second language two high school units (12 credits) will suffice, but the total for both must be 42.
   One of the above languages must be Latin or Greek.
(3) 12 credits in Group III.
(4) 20 credits in the major subject.
Group II.—
(1) 28 credits in one or two foreign languages. No language shall count toward this requirement in which the student offers fewer than 14 credits (or two high school units). Any part or all of this requirement may be met by entrance credits from high school.
(2) 18 credits in Group II other than the major subject and Religious Education.
(3) 12 credits in Group III.
(4) 20 credits in the major subject.

Group III.—
(1) 8 credits in Mathematics 103-104.
(2) 16 credits in a modern language unless the student has presented 3 entrance units in a modern language or 2 units in one language and 1 in another. A student presenting less than 3 units will be given proportional credit toward the required 16 credits.
(3) 18 credits in two subjects in Group III other than the major.
(4) 20 credits in the major subject.

Note—Language requirement of a student whose major is in Group III must be completed by the end of the junior year.
Science requirements of the student, whose major is in Group I or II, must be completed by the end of the junior year.
History and social science requirements must be completed by the end of the junior year.

Majors and Minors.—Each student who is working for a degree must elect, by the beginning of the junior year, under restrictions stated below, one major and two minors or two majors from the eighteen following departments:—

GROUP I.
1. English
2. French
3. German
4. Greek
5. Latin
6. Spanish

GROUP II.
1. Education
2. History
3. Music
4. Philosophy
5. Religious Education
6. Social Sciences
7. Social Work
Terms Defined.—A major consists of a minimum of twenty credits and a maximum of thirty-two credits obtained in one department.

A minor consists of twelve credits obtained in one department. No credit with a grade lower than C is counted toward a major or minor.

Restrictions on Choice.—
(1) At least one of the minors must be in a different group from the major. The minors are subject to the approval of the student’s adviser.

(2) The following courses are not counted toward a major or minor:—Religious Education 101, 106 and 201, Chemistry 401, English 101-102, French 101-102, German 101-102, Greek 101-102, History 450, Latin 101-102, Mathematics 101-102 and 105-106, Spanish 101-102. See, also, Biology 101-102, 121-122, 401 and Chemistry 101-102 in department descriptions.

(3) Philosophy 201 and Social Sciences 201 and 231 are not counted toward a major. In Physics students must present one year of high school work in the subject in order to begin a major or minor.

Five Students Required for a Class.—The college does not hold itself bound for instruction in any elective course for which fewer than five students make request to the Registrar. Such classes may, however, be organized at the option of the instructor.

Courses for the Freshman Year
In the Freshman year the student is required to select one of the following courses according to the group in which his major will probably be.

Group I.

Religious Education, 101 or 106, 2 hours
English 101-102, 3 hours
Latin, Greek, French or German (to complete requirements), 3, 4 or 5 hours

One subject from Group III
Elective
Personal Hygiene
Physical Education
GROUP II.
Religious Education 101 or 106, 2 hours
English 101-102, 3 hours
Latin, Greek, French or German (to complete requirements), 3, 4 or 5 hours

One subject from Group III
One subject from Group II
Personal Hygiene
Physical Education

GROUP III.
Religious Education 101 or 106, 2 hours
English 101-102, 3 hours
Latin, Greek, French or German (to complete requirements), 3, 4 or 5 hours

Mathematics, 4 hours
One subject from Group III
Personal Hygiene
Physical Education

The elective courses for the freshman year are:

Religious Education 102
Biology 101-102, 121-122
Chemistry 101-102
English 141-142
Foreign Language
Geology 101-102

Mathematics 101-102, 103-104, 105-106
Music
Philosophy 102
Physics 101

Classification of Students

Classification without Conditions.—For freshman classification, as stated before, fifteen units of acceptable high school work or their equivalent; for sophomore, thirty-two college credits in addition to the entrance requirements; for junior, sixty-four credits in addition to the entrance requirements; for senior, ninety-six credits in addition to the entrance requirements.

Classification with Conditions.—A student is classified as sophomore on gaining twenty-four college credits; he is ranked junior on obtaining fifty-four college credits; he is ranked senior on obtaining ninety college credits.

Change of Course.—Registration at the beginning of the semester fixes the course of study for the student. After that no change is permitted without the written consent of the instructors concerned and the student's adviser. Dropping a subject comes under this rule.
After four weeks from the opening of college no change of course is permitted except by special permission of the committee on student courses.

Unfinished Courses.—Students who drop a year course at the end of one semester lose all credit in that course unless some distinct phase of the subject is completed; in which case, the instructor may grant the credit.

Attending Courses as a Visitor.—Upon the approval of the adviser, a student shall be permitted to attend not to exceed four hours a week in classes for which he is not regularly registered. No credit is allowed for such attendance.

Preparation for Vocations

The system of majors and minors and the elective system in use here permit the student to frame his college course with some reference to his future vocation. In general the student will find the following courses helpful to him in his future vocational study.

For the Study of Medicine.—The following course is strongly advised for students who are preparing for the study of medicine. Those taking such a course are given a bachelor's degree upon the satisfactory completion of the first year's work in a recognized medical school.

For the Study of Law.—The value of a full college course in preparation for the study of law cannot be disputed. Macalester offers a number of courses that are invaluable to law students, and a college course arranged with this group of subjects as a nucleus is suggested below, showing also the possibility of a well-rounded college course that is designed to develop the best that is in the student.

Social Work.—To meet the imperative needs of our time, and in full sympathy with the practical application of Christian principles to modern conditions, the course in social work, leading to the A. B. degree, has been prepared. The student with a professional or technical career in view will find in it a solid foundation for his later special training, while those pursuing the other courses may select such numbers as will fit them to act well their parts as social citizens in the communities in which they are to live. The Twin Cities and environs afford an excellent opportunity for laboratory and research work. Supplementing the resources of the college are many agencies such as the great libraries of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and a large number of public institutions of various kinds.

For the Christian Ministry and Missionary Teaching.—The department of religious education and the electives in Greek Testament, philosophy, ethics and history offer a course well adapted to those who have the gospel ministry in view. Those, too, who are preparing to be missionary teachers will find in the wide range of Bible study pursued in the college an indispensable and very attractive adjunct to their course.

For Teaching.—The college offers ample opportunity to the student in preparation for the field of teaching. Its Liberal Arts courses give the necessary foundation for a liberal education as well as subject-matter for use in the class room. Its technical courses give the professional aspect to the student's preparation for the vocation of teaching. The latter are concerned with the principles, methods and history of education.

Senior Electives in Professional Schools.—Students intending to study for some profession, who are obliged to shorten their course in preparation, may in the following manner save one year while still obtaining their degrees. After completing three years of the college course at Macalester, and after registering for the fourth year they may take the first year of a professional course in any school approved by the faculty in place of the work of the senior year.

This will be permitted subject to the following conditions: first, the required studies of the college must be completed in every case; second, a certificate must be presented from the professional school showing the successful completion of the work of the first year in that school.

Student Advisers

For registration, advice and supervision all students will be assigned to faculty advisers. Each faculty member will have from fifteen to twenty students, making it possible for each student to receive special attention in regard to his course. The adviser directs the student in the arrangement of a course of study in harmony with his tastes or prospective vocation. When students have definitely fixed upon a vocation in life they will be assigned to that member of the faculty whose department is most akin to the work they have in view. Students who have fixed upon their major study will be assigned to the head of the department to which that major study belongs.
Courses of Study

Odd numbers refer to first semester courses. Even numbers to second semester courses. An R attached to an odd number indicates that the course is repeated the second semester.

Courses 101-199 are open to freshmen. Courses 201-299 are open, with restrictions, to sophomores or to those whose preparation is adequate. Courses above 300 are primarily upper class subjects with prerequisites mentioned in each department.

Biology

Professors Walter and Himmel

The courses have been so arranged that it is possible to choose work either of a general or a special nature. Students wishing a well-rounded education will be able to select work which will meet their needs and in which the cultural aspect is emphasized. Choices should be made from the following: Biology 101-102, 121-122, 204, 303, 304.

Those preparing to teach Biology in high schools will be able to choose suitable work and will be given opportunity for practice in laboratory instruction, grading of papers and note books, and the planning of high school courses. The following courses are suggested for Zoology: Biology 101-102, 201, 204, 304, 401-402; for Botany: Biology, 121-122, 221, 222, 401-402. For work suited to the needs of the pre-medics, the following are recommended: Biology 101-102, 201, 204, 301, 302, 304.

The Department recommends the following courses for its major students: a minor in Chemistry or Physics; Latin or Greek and French and German; one semester or, if at all possible, one year of Paleontology and one semester of Historical Geology; Sociology; Expression, one year.

A. Zoology

101-102. General Zoology.— Professor Walter

This course takes up the fundamental principles of animal biology. Representatives of the phyla of the invertebrates and vertebrates are studied with reference to structure, functions and relation to environment.

One year, two two-hour laboratory periods and two recitations a week, eight credits. This course counts four credits toward a major or minor if the student's grade is R or better, and five credits if course 121-122 is taken also.
112. Ornithology.— PROFESSOR HIMMEL
This study of birds is undertaken strictly from the scientific point of view and is designed to stimulate an appreciation of nature and to arouse a fuller understanding of some of the problems of conservation of our wild life. Open to all students.

Second semester, two lectures, laboratory, and one field trip a week, four credits.

201. Comparative Anatomy.— PROFESSOR WALTER
Consists of lectures, quizzes, assigned readings, and an intensive laboratory study of the shark, perch, necturus, pigeon and cat.

Prerequisite, course 102. First semester, two two-hour laboratory periods and two recitations a week, four credits.

204. Human Physiology.— PROFESSOR WALTER
Lectures, recitations, collateral readings, demonstrations and laboratory work on the structure and functions of the human body. Extensive use is made of anatomical charts and models. Attention is also given to personal hygiene.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits or approval of instructor. Second semester, three recitations and one two-hour laboratory period a week, three or four credits.

301. Vertebrate Histology.— PROFESSOR WALTER
A study of the microscopic structure of the tissues of the body. Special emphasis is placed on training in laboratory technic.

Prerequisite, course 102. First semester, two recitations and two two-hour laboratory periods a week, four credits.

302. Vertebrate Embryology.— PROFESSOR WALTER
A study of the development of the chick and the pig embryos.

Prerequisite, courses 102, 301. Second semester, two recitations and two two-hour laboratory periods a week, four credits.

303. Genetics and Eugenics.— PROFESSOR WALTER
The laws of heredity, as illustrated by plants and animals as well as the application of these laws to the betterment of the human race will be studied. The latest edition of “Genetics and Eugenics” by Castle will be used, supplemented by collateral readings in Thompson, Conklin and Guyer.

Prerequisite, course 102 or 121-122. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
304. General Bacteriology.— Professor Walter
This is a course of lectures, recitations and laboratory work suited to the needs of the general or special student who desires knowledge of the general field of bacteriology, including the cause, control and prevention of important diseases, and training in modern laboratory technic. The laboratory work is optional.
Prerequisite, course 102 or 121-122, or fifty-four credits. Two recitations and two two-hour laboratory periods a week, two or four credits.

401R. Teachers’ Course.— Professors Walter and Himmel
For those who intend to teach biology in high schools. Practical work given in the laboratory. Conferences on methods of teaching and reviews of text-books. This course does not count toward a major or minor.
Prerequisite, courses 102, 121-122, 201. Either semester, two credits.

409-410. Individual Course.— Professor Walter
Advanced students may, with the approval of the head of the department, take up lines of work not covered in the regular courses. Such work will consist of laboratory exercises and assigned readings.
First or second semester, or one year, two or four credits.

B. Botany

121-122. General Botany.— Professor Himmel
A study of the principles of plant life. The first semester deals with the structure, activities, modifications and economic importance of the higher plants. During the second semester the work will involve a study of the great groups of plants with emphasis upon reproduction and evolution, some time being given to the identification and classification of higher plants in the field.
Course 122 may be taken before 121, but no credit will be given until both courses are completed.
One year, two lectures or recitations and two laboratory periods a week, eight credits. This course counts four credits toward a major or minor if the student’s grade is B or better, and five credits if course 101 102 is taken also.

221. Applied Botany.— Professor Himmel
Practical applications of plants to human life. Consideration of plants useful as foods, medicine, industrial and commercial products, ornamental plants, etc.
Prerequisite, course 121-122. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.
222. Systematic Botany.—

Identification and classification of plants. Devoted chiefly to the native plants of the region, including trees and shrubs.
Prerequisite, course 121-122. Second semester, two laboratory periods a week, two credits.

321. Plant Physiology.—

Deals with plant growth, activity and other processes within plants.
Prerequisite, course 121-122 and one year of high school or college chemistry. First semester, two lecture and two laboratory periods a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

322. Morphology of Plants.—

Study of the great groups of plants. Special emphasis is given to the steps in the development of plants and a consideration of their economic importance.
Prerequisite, course 121-122. Second semester, two lecture and two laboratory periods a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

327. Methods in Plant Histology.—

A study of microscopic structure of plants. Special emphasis is placed on the methods of killing, preserving, sectioning and staining of plant tissues which are used in the teaching of structural botany.
Prerequisite, course 121-122. First semester, two recitations and two laboratory periods a week, four credits.

Chemistry

Professors Jones and Traxler

For a major in chemistry students are advised to take courses 101-102, 201-202, 301, 307-308, 309-310, and must write a thesis. Other courses advised are: two years of German or French; Physics, course 201-202; Mathematics, courses 201, 202; Biology, course 101-102 or 121-122; Philosophy, course 209-210. Students wishing a minor in chemistry are advised to take courses 101-102, 201-202, 307-308, 309-310. Students preparing to teach chemistry should take a major or minor in that subject, also course 401, and comply with the State requirements as given under the Department of Education.

101-102. General Inorganic Chemistry.—

The course includes a thorough study of the principal elements and their compounds, their occurrence in nature, preparation in the laboratory, etc.; also an introduction to the study of qualitative analysis.
One year, two lectures, one recitation (two recitations if student has not had chemistry in high school) and six hours in laboratory a week, eight credits.
Four credits may be applied toward a major or minor if a grade of B is attained.
104. Chemistry of Foods.—
A lecture course on foods, their sources, values and conservation.
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

201-202. Qualitative Analysis.—
Lecture and laboratory work, including the detection and separation of the metals and the identification of the acids.
The last few weeks of the year are spent in the analysis of specimens of rock and earth. Instead of this the student may make a study of materials used as paint pigments and the methods used in paint analysis.
Prerequisite, course 102. One year, two lectures, two recitations, and six or nine hours a week in laboratory, four or six credits.

301R. Quantitative Analysis.—
Lecture and laboratory work. This includes an introduction to the gravimetric and volumetric analysis and a study of the methods of determination of atomic weights.
Prerequisite, course 202. Either semester, eight hours a week, four credits.
A combination of courses 201-202 and 301 may be arranged with a total of eight credits. When students take this combination, they will register for course 201 with four credits the first semester, and course 301 with four credits the second semester.

303-304. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry.—
This is a continuation of course 101-102, with an introduction to physical chemistry.
Prerequisite, course 202. One year, two lectures, two recitations and six hours in laboratory a week, six credits.

305R. Advanced Quantitative Analysis.—
This is a continuation of course 301R.
Prerequisite, course 301R. One semester, four or eight hours a week, two or four credits.

307-308. Organic Chemistry.—
A course of lectures on organic chemistry, including a study of the aliphatic and aromatic compounds. The chemistry of foods, oils, explosives, etc., is considered. Some of the important compounds are prepared before the class. A laboratory fee of one dollar is charged, except when course 309-310 is also taken.
Prerequisite, course 202. One year, two lectures and one recitation a week, four credits.

309-310. Laboratory Course in Organic Chemistry.—
To be taken with or upon completion of course 307-308. Organic compounds are prepared and studied. Quantitative results are expected. This course should be taken with course 307-308, when possible.
One year, six hours a week, four credits.
311-312. Advanced Organic Chemistry and Qualitative Organic Analysis.—
This course is a continuation of courses 307-308 and 309-310. The detection of common food adulterants will receive attention.
Prerequisite, course 310. One year, six hours a week, six credits.

313R. Food Analysis.—
Milk and butter analyses receive special attention.
Prerequisite, course 301. One year, six hours a week, four credits or one semester, twelve hours a week, four credits.

315R. Water Analysis.—
Prerequisite, course 301. One semester, six hours a week, three credits.

331-332. Physical Chemistry.—
Lectures and laboratory work. The purpose of this course is to provide a thorough foundation in theoretical and physical chemistry. It includes a general study of molecular and atomic weight determinations, the laws of gases and of solutions, the phase rule, thermochemistry and electrochemistry.
Prerequisites, Chemistry 301, Mathematics 104, Physics 202, Mathematics 202 should be taken before or in conjunction. One year, two lectures, one recitation and six hours in laboratory a week, eight credits.

401. Teachers' Course.—
A course of lectures on the teaching of chemistry.
Prerequisite, course 202. First semester, two hours a week, two credits. No fee is charged.
Credits not counted toward a major or minor.

403-404. Seminar.—
A special study is made of the latest developments in chemical theories, etc. An exhaustive thesis, on an approved subject, is required. Once a month the Seminar will be open to all students interested, when reports will be made on current chemical topics and theses.
Required of all majoring in chemistry. Open to seniors only, except by permission.
One year, one hour a week, two credits.

Education

Professors Nilson, Anderson and Kagin
Students who expect to qualify for a certificate to teach in the public high schools of any state should observe the faculty ruling that they confer with this department in regard to certificate requirements not later than the junior year.
Requirements for such certificates in certain states are indicated in general as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>State</th>
<th>Credits Required in Education</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Iowa</td>
<td>14 plus 6 in psychology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota</td>

The Minnesota Department of Education in accordance with the statutes has directed that the requirements for a first-grade professional certificate shall be distributed as follows:

- Educational Psychology: 3 credits
- Principles of Teaching: 3 credits
- Special Methods or Teachers' Courses and practice teaching with observation: 6 credits
- Elective Educational course: 3 credits

15 credits

Faculty endorsement for this certificate will be made upon application of seniors through the office of the Registrar.

Philosophy 201 is a prerequisite for all courses in Education. A minor in Education shall not include Education 411 or teachers' courses given in other departments. No student may enroll for more than two courses in this department during one semester, not including Education 411.

The faculty committee on appointments endeavors to place seniors in educational positions following their graduation. Obviously only those will receive the faculty recommendation for positions who show by their interest, ability and professional preparation that they are genuinely qualified to teach.

201R. Educational Psychology.—

Special emphasis is given to the native mental equipment of human beings and to the psychology of learning. Readings, lectures, discussions, reports and observation of teaching. Required for the first-grade professional certificate in Minnesota.

Open to sophomores and juniors. Prerequisite, Philosophy 201. Either semester, three hours a week, three credits.

301R. Principles of Teaching.—

Gives emphasis to school room discipline and instruction from the standpoint of the high school. Readings, lectures, discussions, reports, lesson plans and observation of teaching. Required for the first-grade professional certificate in Minnesota.

Prerequisite, course 201. Either semester, three hours a week, three credits.
303. History of Education.—
Emphasis is given to educational methods and movements during the ancient, medieval and modern periods of history including some phases of American education. Readings, lectures, discussions, special reports and critiques.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits including Philosophy 201. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

305. Public School Administration.—
Deals with principles that underlie the administration of the public school system from the standpoint of the city, county and state. Readings, lectures, discussions, reports and school visits. Fulfills the requirement made of superintendents and principals for a course in administration.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits including course 201. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

306. Principles of Secondary Education.—
Deals with principles that underlie the supervision of instruction and the administration of the curriculum in the high school. Gives also a related treatment of the junior high school and the elementary school. Readings, lectures, discussions, reports and school visits. Fulfills the requirement made of superintendents and principals for a course in supervision.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits including course 201. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

402. Educational Problems.—
An advanced course devoted entirely to investigation of problems offered by the class. Each student works out his own problem in the form of a thesis based upon his investigation. Group meets on arranged schedule for reports and criticisms. Restricted to seniors who have the approval of the department of Education.
Second semester, two or three credits.

411R. Practice Teaching and Observation.—
Actual participation in or handling of teaching situations, under supervision when possible and under conditions which may approximate or suggest subsequent teaching experience. Opportunity for the work of this course will be secured through various educational institutions in the Twin Cities. Observation of teaching, lesson plans, teaching, readings, conferences, reports.
Open to seniors only and, unless excused by the faculty, required of all who expect to teach. Not counted for a minor in Education. After September, 1928, not counted among the 126 credits required for graduation.
Prerequisite, course 301, although it may be carried concurrently with the same. Either semester, three credits.
Special Methods or Teachers' Courses.—

Offered by their respective departments. At least two courses from the group indicated below are necessary for compliance with certificate requirements in public high school teaching.

- Biology 401R
- Chemistry 401
- Dramatic Art and Expression 441-442.
- English 403
- French 402
- German 402
- History 450
- Latin 402
- Mathematics 401R
- Music 105-106 and 205-206
- Physical Education for Men 302
- Physics 402
- Social Sciences 401
- Spanish 402

English

PROFESSORS JOHNSON, CLARK, WHITRIDGE, DOTY, MAY, WARD AND PROCTOR

A student may have a major or minor in English Literature or in English Composition and a minor in Expression. A major in English Literature shall consist of at least 14 credits in English Literature courses in which two of the following must be included: English 253-254, 255-256 and 257-258. The remainder of the major may be made up from the following courses in the other divisions of the department: English 201, 202, 241-242 and 243-244. A minor in English Literature shall consist of at least two of the three Literature courses mentioned above.

A student wishing a major in English Composition will be required to take a total of 12 credits from courses in Composition and Public Speaking. He may supplement this with courses from other divisions of the department. For a minor he must take the work from the Composition division only.

A student may elect a minor in Expression providing no part of this work is counted in the major in English Literature or Composition.

A. Composition and Public Speaking

101-102. Composition.—

PROFESSORS WARD, MAY AND PROCTOR

This course is required of all freshmen. Its purpose is to give the student practice in speaking and writing and to lay a foundation for future work in English.

One year, three, four or five hours a week, six credits.
201. Short Story Writing.— Professor Clark
This course is designed for those who wish to attempt advanced work in narrative writing.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

202. Expository Writing.— Professor Clark
Attention will be given to the organization and presentation of material, but the chief emphasis will be placed upon the development of the sources of originality of the student himself.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

203-204. Newspaper Writing.— Professor May
(a) Introductory Course—This course introduces beginners to the theory and practice of journalism. Students wishing appointment to the Mac Weekly staff are advised to register for this course.
First semester, one credit.
(b) Advanced course.
Prerequisite, course 102. Second semester, one credit.

207. Public Speaking.— Professor Clark
The object of this course is to correct a student’s faults in public speaking and enable him to present a message effectively from the platform.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

210. Extemporaneous Speaking.— Professor Clark
Registration for this course is limited to eight students. An entrance is based upon competitive tests.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

211-212. Debate and Oratory.— Professor Ward
Required of all students who expect to receive credit for intercollegiate debate and oratory. Theory of argumentation and debate, study of English oratory, centering in the speeches of Burke, and practical debating.
One year, two class hours and laboratory, four credits. One credit bonus to those who represent the college in forensic contests.

216. English Philology.— Professor Clark
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.
311-312. Debate and Oratory.— Professor Ward

Required of all students who expect to receive credit for inter-collegiate debate and oratory. A repetition of 211-212, except that American oratory will be studied.

Prerequisite, English 211-212 or signature of instructor. One year, two class hours and laboratory, four credits. One credit bonus to those who represent the college in forensic contests. Not offered 1927-1928.

313-314. Debate and Oratory.— Professor Ward

One year, laboratory only. Open to those who have represented the college for two years in forensic contests. Two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

402. Seminar in Advanced Composition.— Professor Clark

This course is designed for those who have done or wish to do some original writing outside of the regular classroom work. No student should enroll for this course until he has consulted the instructor.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

403. Teachers’ Course.— Professor Clark

This course is designed to prepare students to teach English in secondary schools. The work consists of lectures, reports and actual practice teaching.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

B. English Language and Literature

Professors Johnson, Clark, Doty, May and Ward

251-252. American Literature.— Professor Johnson

Lectures and critical reading of selected authors; themes on assigned reading.

253-254. Old English.— Professor Johnson

A study of the language, and reading of selections from the Old English Chronicle, King Alfred, Aelfric and the simpler poetry; Beowulf.

255-256. English Literature.— Professor Johnson

The aim of this course is to emphasize the main facts in the development of English literature from the seventh century until about 1600. Chaucer and Spenser are extensively read and discussed.

Prerequisite, course 102. One year, three hours a week, six credits.
257-258. English Literature.— PROFESSOR JOHNSON

Shakespeare and Milton.

One year, three hours a week, six credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

259-260. The Drama in England.— PROFESSOR JOHNSON

While the course deals chiefly with the English drama, attention will be given to other literatures.

Prerequisite, course 102. One year, three hours a week, six credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

261. Modern Prose Writers.— PROFESSOR CLARK

A study of Carlyle, Emerson, Ruskin, Newman and Arnold.

262. Romantic Poets.— PROFESSOR CLARK

A study of poetry and poetic elements as revealed in the writings of Wordsworth, Coleridge, Keats and Shelley.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

263. World Masterpieces.— PROFESSOR CLARK

The course consists of an intensive study of the Book of Job, Homer's Odyssey, Dante's Inferno, Shakespeare's Othello, and Goethe's Faust.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

265. Eighteenth Century Prose.— PROFESSOR MAY

A study of English Prose with special emphasis on Defoe, Swift, Goldsmith and Johnson.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

266. Eighteenth Century Poetry.— PROFESSOR MAY

A survey of English Poetry from Dryden to Burns with special reference to the rise and growth of romanticism.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

267-268. Types of Literature.— PROFESSOR WARD

A general course in English and American folk and literary traditions.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

352. Advanced English Survey.— PROFESSOR MAY

For advanced students whose major is English and who plan to teach it upon graduation.

353. History of Literary Criticism.— PROFESSOR JOHNSON
A study of the principles governing literary composition.
Prerequisite, course 256. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

354. Browning and Tennyson.— PROFESSOR JOHNSON
A comparative study.
Prerequisite, course 353. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

355-356. The English Novel.— PROFESSOR JOHNSON
Its rise and development.
Prerequisite, course 256. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

C. Dramatic Art and Expression
PROFESSOR WHITRIDGE

141-142. Vocal and Physical Expression.—
Fundamental principles underlying the art of expression and literary interpretation. Deep breathing, control of breath, voice production, voice placing, rhythm, intonation, correction of voice faults and mannerisms. Pantomime, bodily expression, posture, rhythm of bodily movements, poise. Reading and recitation.
One year, three hours a week, four credits.

241-242. Literary and Dramatic Interpretation.—
Plays of Shakespeare and the best poetry studied with reference to vocal interpretation, differentiation of character and portrayal of emotions. Adaptation of the short story and one-act plays for platform work.
Prerequisite, course 142. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

243-244. Shakespeare and Modern Drama.—
Analysis and presentation, choice, abridgment and adaptation of selections for public reading.
Prerequisite, course 142. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

245. Story Telling.—
Prerequisite, course 142. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

441-442. Dramatic Production.—
Building of stages, making and painting of scenery, lighting, grouping, acting, indoor and outdoor productions, pageantry, costumes, coaching and make-ups.
Prerequisite, course 142. One year, two hours a week, four credits.
French

PROFESSOR FICKEN AND MISS GUNNISON

A major in French presupposes at least two years of Latin or Greek. A major in French must include courses 201-202, 301 and 303 or equivalents. An equivalent of course 301 is a grade of A or B in course 103-104. An equivalent of course 201-202 is a minimum of twelve hours from courses 305 to 312 inclusive. Courses 101-102 and 402 are not counted toward a major or a minor.

Prerequisite for all courses, except 101-102 and 103-104, is course 104, unless otherwise stated below.

101-102. Elementary French.—

PROFESSOR FICKEN AND MISS GUNNISON

Essentials of grammar, conversation, reading of elementary texts and dictation.

One year, five hours a week, eight credits.

PROFESSOR FICKEN AND MISS GUNNISON

Review of elementary grammar. Advanced grammar, composition, conversation and the reading of a number of modern French texts. Course 204 is optional as a substitute for course 104. Students with a first semester grade of A or B may, with permission of the instructor, elect an advanced course 305 to 312 as a substitute for course 104.

Prerequisite, course 102 or two years of high school French. One year, four hours a week, eight credits.

201-202. History of French Literature.— MISS GUNNISON

A general survey of French literature. Lectures, outside readings and reports.

One year, three hours a week, six credits.

204. Scientific French.— PROFESSOR FICKEN

A reading course for science students. Elective as a substitute for course 104.

Second semester, four hours a week, four credits.

301. French Composition and Conversation.— PROFESSOR FICKEN

Oral and written composition, ear training, reproduction, grammar review. Primarily for seniors who intend to teach French.

First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
303. Phonetics.— Professor Ficken
Organs of speech, international phonetic alphabet, intensive drill in the pronunciation of sounds, syllables, stress groups, etc. Individual use of the phonograph for corrective purposes, phonetic transcription, memorization of a few transcribed passages.
Prerequisite for teachers' course. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

305. Romantic Literature.— Professor Ficken

The problems of secondary teaching. Values, aims and methods are discussed. The files of the Modern Language Journal and similar periodicals are used extensively for special reports and collateral reading. Criticism of elementary text-books; formulation of a two-year course for high schools; incidental continuation of phonetics, conversation and grammar review.
Prerequisite, courses 301 and 303 or equivalents and ninety credits.
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.
Geology

PROFESSORS ALEXANDER AND YARWOOD

Students whose major is Geology should have a working knowledge of elementary Biology, Chemistry and Physics. If this is lacking they should register in one of the following courses: Biology 101-102, Chemistry 101-102, Physics 201-202.

101-102. General.—
A study of the forces at work within and upon the surface of the earth, the structural forms which these forces have produced and the history of the earth and the life upon it. Illustrated lectures combined with recitations and quizzes upon text work reading assigned. Field work for the study of local geology.

One year, three hours a week, six credits. Students whose major is biology may enter the second semester and secure three credits.

201-202. Mineralogy and Petrology.—
This course consists of two parts: first, a study of the more common crystal forms and the practical methods for the identification of the common minerals; second, a study of the most common and important kinds of rocks, including the methods of recognition, the interpretation and the uses of them.

Prerequisite, Chemistry 102. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

311. Fossil Biology.—
A short course in fossil biology. This includes a study of the methods used for collecting, identifying and interpreting fossil forms and their life relationship. It is devoted largely to ancestral mammals.

Prerequisite, Biology 201 or Geology 102. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

312. Paleontology.—
This is a laboratory course dealing with methods for preparing, studying and mounting fossils.

Prerequisite, course 211. Second semester, three to eight hours a week, one to three credits.

401R. Field Work.—
This course covers field methods used for observation of structure and collection of specimens, local geological surveys with the preparation of maps and sections and collection of fossils.

Prerequisite, course 212. First or second semester, or summer, eight hours a week, three credits.
German

PROFESSORS MILROY AND KOHLHAUPT

101-102. Elementary German.—
Essentials of grammar, reading, conversation. This course is intended for students who have had no German.
One year, five hours a week, eight credits.

103-104. Intermediate German.—
Reading of prose and the easier dramas of Schiller and Lessing. Review of grammar; composition; conversation.
Prerequisite, course 102 or two years of high school German. One year, four hours a week, eight credits.

A general survey course up to the classic period; readings and reports.
Prerequisite, course 104. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

202. Lessing.—
A brief study of his life and times and the reading of at least two of his important works.
Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

203-204. Modern Prose and Drama.—
General reading course.
Prerequisite, course 104 if the language was begun in college. Those presenting three years of high school German may elect either this course or one of courses 201, 202 or 302. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

301. Schiller.—
A rapid survey of his life and the reading of several of his dramas and his most important poems.
First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

302. Epic Poetry.—
Reading of selections from the epic in a modern German translation, followed by a rapid reading of Wagner's Der Ring der Nibelungen. Lectures on the interpretation of the mythology of both.
Prerequisite, course 204, or equivalent. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.
303-304. Medical German.—
Readings from general works on physiology, anatomy and bacteriology.
   One year, three hours a week, six credits.

309. Composition.—
Advanced Syntax, practical composition and conversation.
   First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

402. Teachers' Course.—
Methods of teaching, text-books, phonetics, etc. Required of all those who desire to teach German; with others optional.
   Prerequisite, course 204 or equivalent and ninety credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

Greek
Professor Hall

Course 101-102 is not counted toward a major or minor.

101-102. Grammar.—
A study of the elements of the language. Drill in form, vocabulary, syntax and composition. Readings from Xenophon's Anabasis.
   One year, five hours a week, eight credits.

112. Classic Mythology.—
A study of the more important myths of Greece and Rome with special attention to their use in English literature.
   Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

   Prerequisite, course 102. One year, four hours a week, eight credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

203-204. The Greek Testament.—
This course is intended not only for candidates for the ministry but for any who have studied classical Greek and who wish to acquire a reading knowledge of the New Testament in the original Greek.
   Prerequisite, course 102. One year, four hours a week, eight credits.
211. English Course in Greek Literature.—
Studies in the elegiac, lyric and dramatic poets of Greece for students having no knowledge of Greek.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

301. Athenian Orators.—
Selected orations of Lysias and Demosthenes. Theme work on Isaeus, Isocrates and others. Athenian legal procedure.
Prerequisite, course 202. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

302. Plato.—
The Apology and Crito. Socrates and his teachings, with readings from Xenophon's Memorabilia.
Prerequisite, course 202. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

303. The Drama.—
Selected plays of Aeschylus or Euripides and Aristophanes. Rise and development of tragedy and comedy. The Greek theater and production of plays.
Prerequisite, course 302. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

304. The Odyssey.—
Prerequisite, course 302. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

306. Lyric Poetry.—
Selections from the elegiac and lyric poets.
Prerequisite, course 302. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

History

Professors Ritchey and Holmes

A major in History should include courses 101-102 and 203-204. Deviations from this requirement should receive the approval of the department. Students electing either a major or a minor should consult the department regarding courses in order to obtain the proper sequence and combination. Course 450 does not count toward a major or minor in history.
101-102. The Modern World.—

Professors Ritchey and Holmes

A brief survey of late medieval history followed by a careful study of the development and diffusion of modern culture since the fifteenth century. Political, social, economic, religious and other interests will receive appropriate emphasis. This course is intended to serve as a basis for advanced work in history and to assist in the study of other subjects which require familiarity with the growth of modern civilization.

Open to freshmen and sophomores; to juniors and seniors only by arrangement with the department.

One year, three hours a week, six credits.

104-105. The Modern World.—

Professor Holmes

Identical with 101-102, but beginning in the second semester and continuing throughout the first semester of the following year. Intended primarily for freshmen who enter in the second semester or who for other reasons are not able to take 101-102.

One year, three hours a week, six credits.

201-202. English History.—

Professor Holmes

The development of political, religious, economic, social and literary interests will be traced throughout the history of the English people.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

203-204. American History.—

Professor Ritchey

This course will begin with a sketch of American colonial history. The important political and economic factors involved in the history of the American people from the Revolution to the present time will constitute the essential part of the study.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

211. Ancient Civilization.—

Professor Ritchey

A study of the historical development of early culture with chief stress on Greek and Roman civilization.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

215. Medieval Civilization.—

Professor Holmes

The development of European culture from the decline of the Roman Empire to the opening of the fourteenth century.

Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
301-302. Europe Since 1815.— Professor Holmes
An intensive study intended to acquaint students with the development of political, social and economic forces in European history after the Congress of Vienna. A study will be made of the personalities involved in the period. During the second semester emphasis will be placed on the international problems which arose subsequent to 1870.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

304. Renaissance and Reformation.— Professor Holmes
Lectures and assigned readings covering the period from about 1300 to 1648, and dealing with the revolt from established authority which characterized cultural and religious life during this period.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 101-102 or 215. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

306. The French Revolution.— Professor Holmes
A study of social, economic and political forces leading to the upheaval of 1789 and continuing to the Congress of Vienna.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 101-102. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

307. The Historical Development of American Government.— Professor Ritchey
The development of American governmental institutions will be studied in relation to the various political problems with which the American people have dealt.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 203-204; or taken concurrently with 203-204. First semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

309. The History of American Diplomacy.—Professor Ritchey
A chronological survey of American diplomatic history.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 203-204. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

310. The Westward Expansion of the United States.— Professor Ritchey
A study of the westward expansion of the United States and the political and economic problems involved.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 203-204. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

311. The History of Minnesota.— Professor Ritchey
A general survey of the settlement and development of Minnesota.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including History 203-204. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
400. Seminar.— Professor Ritchey
This course is intended to give introductory training in methods of research to students who are majoring in the department.
Prerequisite, ninety credits. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

450. Teachers' Course.— Professor Ritchey
This course is intended to assist in the preparation of those who expect to teach History in secondary schools. It does not count toward a major or minor in the department.
Prerequisite, ninety credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

Home Making
Professor Whitridge

104. Social Culture.—
The hospitality of the home. The forms and customs known and observed in community life.
Second semester, one hour a week, one credit.

Latin
Professor Mathisen

A student whose major is in the Latin department should have had four years of Latin in high school and will be required to take courses 201, 202, 203, 204, and one other course. If the student has had only two years of High School Latin, he may take courses 103-104 and then go on with the requirements as stated above. Course 101-102 does not count toward a major. For a minor a student must have one year of advanced Latin (201 and 202 or 203 and 204) beyond High School Latin or course 104. Students who desire a recommendation for teaching Latin are required to have had at least four years of High School Latin and course 402, but are strongly urged to take course 305. Those who have met this minimum requirement can be recommended for teaching only the first two years of Latin. Those wishing to teach more than that must take at least one year of advanced Latin. In addition to the courses required in the Latin department a major student is advised to secure a minor in Greek, and to elect Social Sciences 201, 301 and 361, History 211, Philosophy 311 and English 216 and 258.
101-102. Elementary Latin.—
A thorough study of Latin grammar supplemented by easy reading and a few selections of connected Latin.
One year, five hours a week, eight credits.

103-104. Intermediate Latin.—
Selections from the orations of Cicero and from Virgil's Aeneid. A brief study of the life and history of the times in which these men lived. No credit is given for one semester unless the student offers three units of Latin from preparatory school. Prerequisite, two years of High School Latin or course 102. One year, four hours a week, eight credits.

201. Livy.—
Selections from Livy's account of the Second Punic War. Prerequisite, four years of High School Latin or course 104. First semester, four hours a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

202. Comedy.—
Representative plays of Plautus and Terence. Collateral work in the history of the drama and the Roman theatre. Prerequisite, course 201. Second semester, four hours a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

203. Cicero.—
Readings from Cicero's essays and philosophical works. Prerequisite, four years of High School Latin or course 104. First semester, four hours a week, four credits.

204. Horace.—
Selections from the whole of Horace's works. Prerequisite, course 203. Second semester, four hours a week, four credits.

301. Poets of the Republic.—
Study of the poets of the republican period with especial emphasis on the writings of Catullus and Lucretius. Prerequisite, courses 202 and 204. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

303. Writers of the Silver Age.—
Selections from Tacitus and Pliny the Younger, along with a study of the history of that period. Prerequisite, courses 202 and 204. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
305R. History of Latin Literature.—
Lectures on the lives and writings of the important Latin authors. A reading knowledge of Latin is necessary.
Either semester, one hour a week, one credit.

308. Roman Poetry.—
A survey of Latin Poetry from Ennius to the Church Fathers.
Prerequisite, courses 202 and 204. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

402. Teachers' Course.—
Consideration of the problems pertaining to the teaching of High School Latin.
Prerequisite, course 104. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

Mathematics and Astronomy
PROFESSORS KINGERY AND JENSEN
Courses 101-102 and 105-106 are not counted toward a major or minor. Course 301-302 is required for a major.

101-102. Algebra, Trigonometry and Solid Geometry.—
This course is for those who present only two units in high school mathematics.
One year, four hours a week, eight credits.

103-104. Analysis.—
A course in College Algebra, Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry. Methods of calculus are introduced.
One year, four hours a week, eight credits.

105-106. Mechanical Drawing.—
A course designed for those taking shop work or preparing for technical schools.
One, two or three semesters, four hours a week, one, two or three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

201. Analytic Geometry.—
Equations of straight lines and the principal curves and their tangents are discussed by both rectilinear and polar coordinates.
Prerequisite, course 104. First semester, four hours a week, four credits.

202. Differential and Integral Calculus.—
A brief study of the principles of differential calculus based on theory of limits, followed by a short course in integral calculus.
Prerequisite, course 201. Second semester, four hours a week, four credits.
204. Surveying.—
Prerequisite, course 104. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

205-206. Mathematics of Investment.—
Prerequisite, course 104. One year, two hours a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

301-302. Advanced Calculus.—
Integral Calculus with introduction to Differential Equations.
Prerequisite, course 202. One year, three hours a week, six credits.

351-352. Astronomy.—
Text-book, lectures and practical work with sextant, transit and clock.
Prerequisite, course 202. One year, four hours a week, six credits.

401R. Advanced Algebra and Geometry.—
Intended especially for those preparing to teach.
Prerequisite, course 202. Either semester, three hours a week, three credits.

MR. PHILLIPS, MR. FAIRCLOUGH, MR. JENSEN, MISS HECK AND MISS YOUNG

Music may be chosen as a major or minor. The total number of credits permitted in such work is thirty-two. Of this number a maximum of eight credits in practical music (voice, organ, piano, violin) may be allowed upon recommendation of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music after at least six credits in harmony have been earned. Of the twenty credits required for a major ten must be in harmony. Of the twelve credits required for a minor six must be in harmony.

Physics 101 and Music 151-152 are required of students whose major is music.

101-102. Elementary Harmony.—

Mr. Jensen

The complete course in Harmony requires two years and is designed with the purpose of promoting the application and demonstration of theory in practice. The first semester is devoted to preparatory work in scale, interval, ear training and sight-singing.

One year, three hours a week, six credits.
103-104. History of Music.—
Mr. Jensen
This course includes a broad and comprehensive survey of the entire field of musical history, supplemented by special study of the chief branches of the art and of the forms and instruments pertaining to each.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

105-106. Public School Music.—
Miss Heck
For a detailed description, see Conservatory of Music.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

107-108. Normal Training in Piano.—
Miss Young
Course for advanced music students, who desire to teach piano.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

151-152. History of Fine Arts.—
Professor Kohlhaupt
A study of the development of architecture, sculpture and painting thru the various periods of ancient, medieval and modern art. An effort is made to familiarize the student with the great masterpieces by means of photographs, stereopticon lectures and visits to art galleries in the Twin Cities.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

201-202. Advanced Harmony.—
Mr. Jensen
This course embraces a thorough study of the materials of harmony and includes practical experimental work in elementary composition.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

205-206. Advanced Public School Music.—
Miss Heck
For a detailed description, see Conservatory of Music.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

301-302. Form and Harmonic Analysis.—
Mr. Jensen
This includes analysis of harmonic structure and a study of form structure from the simple period to the larger complex types of musical composition. It is the purpose of the course to acquaint the student with the means and methods employed by the masters in the art-craft of music building.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

303-304. Simple Counterpoint.—
Mr. Jensen
Simple counterpoint in two, three and four parts.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.
305-306. Double Counterpoint.— Mr. Jensen

Double counterpoint, canon and fugue. Required for Bachelor of Music degree.
Prerequisite, course 304. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

307-308. Normal Training for Voice.— Mr. Phillips

Study of different vocal methods, and principles of correct tone production.

309-310. Composition.— Mr. Fairclough

Writing in short vocal and instrumental forms. Original pieces imitative of the style of various composers. Required for Bachelor of Music degree.
One year, one hour a week, two credits.

Philosophy and Psychology

Professors Anderson and Vold

A major in this department should include along with other courses to meet the requirements, Philosophy 205, 209-210, 220, 311, 312. A minor should include courses 205, 209-210 and two of the following: 220, 311, 312.

The department recommends to students who purpose to do intensive work in philosophy a knowledge of Greek or Latin, or both, along with French and German, History 215, 304, Social Sciences 201, 231, 301, English 257-258, 354; as broad an acquaintance as possible with the sciences and a minor in one of them; Religious Education, 311, 312.

102. General Psychology.—

Alternative to 201R, to which refer for content.
Open to freshmen only. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

201R. General Psychology.—

An introductory survey of the theory and literature of normal human psychology; its principles, laws, applications and relations to other sciences. Text assignments, lectures, readings and simple experimental work.
Prerequisite, sophomore standing or consent of instructor. Either semester, three hours a week, three credits.
205R. Ethics.—

This course includes an historical sketch of ethical theories and of the conceptions of life that have been held, a study of ethical theory and of practical problems.

The attempt is made in this course to develop a system of thought that does justice to Christian motive and doctrine and is, at the same time, based upon a proper scientific and philosophical basis.

209-210. Logic and Scientific Method.—

This is a study of the methods of investigation and proof. The first semester is devoted to inductive reasoning, including a brief introduction to statistical methods; the second semester is given to deductive reasoning, with much attention to fallacies.

One year, two hours a week, four credits. Students may begin with either semester and take either or both semesters with credit.

220. Introduction to Philosophy.—

A course intended to introduce the student to the problems that concern the meaning of the world. It will seek to explain what the chief problems are, indicate some of the solutions offered and help the student in some constructive thinking about them.

Prerequisite, course 201 or 205. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

305. Development of Morals and of Moral Ideas.—

A study in the development of morals as illustrated in primitive and more advanced peoples; a comparison of some types of morality; the growth of morality in the individual.

Prerequisite, courses 201 and 205. Three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

311. History of Philosophy, Ancient and Medieval.—

Beginning with the early Greeks this course follows the course of philosophic thought down to the period of Bruno, with the purpose of noting the development and relationships of the chief philosophical concepts. Attention is concentrated upon the leading thinkers and on the movement of thought. Cofferlateral readings in Plato, Aristotle and others are required.

Open to students of sophomore standing, who have taken course 201 or 205. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.
312. History of Philosophy, Modern.—
Continuing the preceding, from Bruno to the present time.
Constant use of Rand’s classical Modern Philosophers is made for collateral reading.
Open to students of sophomore standing, who have taken course
201 or 205. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits.

313-314. Formal Logic.—
This covers the formal aspects of the subject in some detail.
It includes the consideration of modal propositions, existential import, and other matters not usually dealt with in introductory courses.
Prerequisite, course 209-210. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

321. Theory of Knowledge.—
An inquiry into the nature of knowledge, into the ability of the human mind to acquire it, and into the limits of knowledge.
The course is given an historical background. Readings, discussions and reports will be required.
Prerequisite, course 311 or 312 and fifty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

325. On the Relation of Mind and Body.—
An historical sketch of opinions held on this subject, followed by discussion of theories of the present day as they relate to this topic.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. First semester, three hours a week, three credits.

326. Philosophy of Religion.—
This course has in view, in particular, the conceptions of God, of the world and of man, which are involved in Christianity.
These are compared as thoroughly as the time allows with the various conflicting conceptions.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. Second semester, three hours a week, three credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

Physics

PROFESSORS ALEXANDER AND YARWOOD

Students whose major is Physics must take courses 201-202, 301, 302 and 311. In addition they are advised to take Chemistry
101-102.

101. Sound.—
This course includes a study of the mechanics of sound, particularly wave motion, interference, resonance and quality.
Also the development of the diatonic and tempered scales and the construction and theory of the common musical instruments.
First semester, three hours a week, two credits.
201-202. General Physics.—
This is a short course which covers the entire subject in one year and consists of lectures, demonstrations and laboratory work. The aim is to lay the foundation for those desiring to do advanced work and to afford others an opportunity for securing the practical knowledge and training in scientific method which the subject presents. This course meets the minimum requirement for pre-medical students. Students without credit in High School Physics will be required to do supplementary work under a tutor.
Prerequisite, Mathematics 104. One year, six hours a week, eight credits.

301. Advanced Mechanics, Sound, Heat.—
This course includes a thorough study of mechanics, sound and heat. A large part of the time is spent in laboratory work and the student's conceptions of physical laws are developed as largely as possible from observation and experiment. About thirty quantitative experiments are performed by each student in the laboratory, the aim being to afford a working knowledge of modern measuring instruments of precision and to develop quantitative methods, as well as to discover and verify the laws of nature. Careful attention is given to the problem of the errors in measurement, the student being required in each case to consider the origin of the errors and methods for their elimination and to compute the probable errors of observations and results.
Prerequisite, course 202. First semester, six hours a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

302. Advanced Light and Electricity.—
This course includes a thorough study of electricity and light. Thirty experiments are performed, twenty of which are in electricity, giving the student an opportunity to familiarize himself with electrical measuring instruments. The work in light includes measurements with the photometer, spectrometer and interferometer.
Prerequisite, course 202. Second semester, six hours a week, four credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

311R. Advanced Physics.—
In this course a thorough study is made of topics, approved by the head of the department. The work is largely individual and experimental. The aim is to deepen rather than to broaden the student's knowledge of the subject and to cultivate a taste for research.

The course may be repeated with different topics.

   Prerequisite, course 301 or 302 and Mathematics 202. Either semester, four hours a week, two credits.

321. Laboratory Technic.—

   In this course a study is made of the design, construction, operation and repair of the more elementary laboratory apparatus and of the use and manipulation of laboratory materials. The aim is to afford those students who are preparing to teach physics a practical working knowledge of the physical laboratory.

   Prerequisite, course 202. First semester, four hours a week, two credits.

402. Teachers' Course.—

   A study of the content of a High School course in Physics, the arrangement of the subject-matter and the methods of teaching that will stimulate thoughtful interpretation of physical laws.

   Prerequisite, course 301 or 302. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.
Religious Education
On the Frederick Weyerhaeuser, John C. Martin and Thomas Synnott Foundations

PROFESSORS WALLACE, FRANKLIN AND KAGIN

The aim of the department is twofold: first, to familiarize every student of the institution with the literature upon which Christianity is based and lead him to a rational, Christian interpretation of the universe; and second, to discover, to inspire and train those students who have the capacity for Christian leadership, for professional or lay service in the church. The work of the department is given on three levels, as follows:

Required Courses.—8 credits in the department are required for graduation. These must include 101 or 106 and 201.

Service Minor.—The aim of this minor is to give leadership training to those students who wish to devote some of their time to volunteer work in the various activities of the church. 12 credits are required in addition to courses 101 or 106 and 201.

Vocational Major.—

1. This schedule aims to give a prevocational foundation to those who are preparing to study for the Christian ministry. At least 20 credits are required.
   - Prerequisites: Courses 101 or 106 and 201; Philosophy 209-210, 220 and 326; Greek 101-102.
   - Schedules must include the following: Courses 102 or 107, 103-104, 311-312, and 323-324.

2. This aims to give professional training that will equip the student to undertake the work of a director of religious education, pastor’s assistant, church secretary or teacher of week day schools of religion. At least 20 credits are required.
   - Prerequisites: Courses 101 or 106, and 201; Philosophy 209-210, 220, 326; Sociology 201, and Education 201.
   - Schedules must include the following: Courses 102 or 107, 103-104, 311-312, and 323-324, and should include Dramatic Art and Expression 442 and one course in the department of Social Work.

101-102. The Life of Christ.—Professor Franklin

This is studied by means of a harmony of the gospels. By way of introduction attention is directed to the political and religious condition of the time and to the characteristics and viewpoint of the gospel writers. By discriminating discussion of the teachings of Christ and a realistic presentation of the facts and incidents of His life an effort is made to deepen personal faith in Christ as the Savior of men and to bring the student into appreciation of Jesus as the master teacher of all time. Attention is directed primarily to the careful study and interpretation of the text of the gospels.

Required of freshmen, one semester, two hours a week, two credits. Elective, one semester, two hours a week, two credits.

Students who are already fairly familiar with the gospels, or who for any reason prefer to do so, may, in lieu of the above, take course 103-104.

103-104. Old Testament History.— Professor Franklin
A study of the History of the Hebrew people from the earliest times to the Maccabean period. This course is basic, a prerequisite to advanced work in the department. Offered in special cases in place of course 101-102.

One year, two hours a week, four credits. Elective either semester.

106-107. The Life of Christ.— Professor Franklin
Identical with 101-102, but beginning in the second semester and continuing throughout the first semester of the following year. Intended primarily for those who enter in the second semester or for those who for other reasons have not received credit for 101-102.

One year, second and first semesters. Two hours a week, four credits.

121-122. International Sunday School Lessons.— Professor Wallace
Intended especially for teachers in the Sunday School. Emphasis is put upon the setting of the lesson, its careful interpretation, and the practical application of its teachings.

One year, one hour a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

201R. The Missionary Labors of the Apostles.— Professor Wallace
These studies are based on the Acts of the Apostles and in part on the New Testament Epistles. The growth of the early church is carefully traced and the whole movement is viewed as a continuance of the work of Christ thru the agency of the Holy Spirit and of His inspired apostles. The authorship and credibility of the Acts, its teaching concerning Jesus, the Holy Spirit, and the organization of the early church receive special attention.

Required of sophomores, either semester, two hours a week, two credits.
203. Church History.— Professor Kagin
This course is designed to give a survey of the rise, growth, and development of the Christian Church to the present time. Special emphasis is given to outstanding characters and events.
Prerequisite, twenty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

204. Missions and World Citizenship.— Professor Kagin
A survey course of the progress of world-wide Christian propaganda. Lectures, lantern slides, character sketches of great missionaries by members of the class, and letters from missionaries on the field are features of the course. Special attention is given to current movements in foreign lands which bear on the mission problem.
Prerequisite, 24 credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

301-302. The Literary Study of the Bible.— Professor Franklin
This course is designed for students desiring to make a thorough study of the sources and relationships of the various types of literature represented in the Hebrew and Christian Scriptures. Emphasis is laid on the growth of the literature out of historical situations, and on the special characteristics of the various types of literary production.
First semester: From the beginnings of Hebrew literature to the end of the exile period.
Second semester: From the return from exile to the close of the New Testament period.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including courses 103-104 and 201. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

303. Oriental History Contemporary with the Old Testament.— Professor Wallace
This course includes (1) a study of the history and religion of Babylonia, Assyria and Egypt; (2) the relation of this material to the explication of Old Testament history.
Prerequisite, courses 101 and 201. First semester, two hours a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

304. Prophets of Israel.— Professor Wallace
This course consists of a careful study of the prophets, their place in history and in the life of their nation and their communities. Emphasis is laid upon their ethical and religious messages and their permanent contribution to the religious thinking of the world.
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.
311. Apologetics.— Professor Wallace
A brief exposition of Christian theism. History of the presentation and defense of Christianity with special emphasis on the important episodes from the time of the early contact with Greek philosophy down to the modern adjustments with natural sciences, philosophy, sociology, and comparative religion.
First semester, two hours a week, two credits.

312. Comparative Religion.— Professor Wallace
A study of the great religious systems of the world including Hinduism, Buddhism, Zoroastrianism, Confucianism, Taoism, Shintoism and Islam. An analysis of the elements common to these systems and Christianity and of the elements that are peculiar to Christianity.
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

313. Social Teachings of Christianity.— Professor Wallace
This includes a careful study of the social teachings of the Bible, their influence on the institutions of mankind, their application to current problems, comparison with the social teaching of some of the other leading religions.
First semester, two hours a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

314. Christianity and the State.— Professor Wallace
The object of this course is to train the student in Christian statesmanship, to ascertain and classify the biblical principles that have to do with the functions and problems of the State, including the State's international relations, to trace the influence of these principles in the development of free institutions, to make clear the moral basis of democracy, to show that the highest statesmanship must be Christian and that this statesmanship is imperatively demanded by present world conditions and that by these alone can party platforms and public policies be soundly tested.
Second semester, two hours a week, two credits. Not offered 1927-1928.

321. Organization and Administration of Religious Education.— Professor Kagin
A comprehensive survey of the problem of the organization of church schools and their correlation with public school systems. Special emphasis is given to a study of the organization and administration of the local church school and the week day school of religion.
Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. First semester, two hours a week, two credits.
322. Curriculum Building in Religious Education.— Professor Kagin

A study is made of the development of the curriculum as found in different church schools up to the present time. Special emphasis is given to the principles underlying the construction of adequate text-books suitable for the needs of the modern church schools.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

323-324. Principles of Moral and Religious Education.— Professor Kagin

A critical examination of the principles underlying educational theory as related to the moral and religious fields with special consideration given to the bearing of current philosophical and psychological systems upon the teaching of religion. An attempt is made to point out adequate foundations upon which a system of religious training may be built.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits, including Philosophy 220. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

327-328. Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence.— Professor Kagin

(327) A study of the mental capacities and development of the child from infancy through the eleventh year with special reference to principles and methods affecting the teaching of religion. First semester.

(328) Continuation of the study of the child through the adolescent stage to adult life. Second semester.

Prerequisite, Philosophy 201. One year, two hours a week, four credits.

329. Young Peoples' Work.— Professor Kagin

This course is designed to acquaint the student with the history, problems, and methods of work for adolescents in the local church.

330. Week Day Religious Instruction.— Professor Kagin

A study of the origin, growth, and development of the week day school of religion. Emphasis is laid on building of curriculum, methods of teaching and correlation of the work with the public school system.

Prerequisite, fifty-four credits. Second semester, two hours a week, two credits.

General Statement

The Conservatory of Music offers a thorough course of instruction in voice, piano, organ, violin and other stringed instruments; also a theoretical course including Harmony, Counterpoint, Form and Analysis, Composition, Musical History and Public School Music. In each branch of musical study a systematic course, leading to graduation, will be pursued. Time required for completion varies—the length of course depending on the pupil’s ability and intelligent devotion to work.

Entrance.—Pupils who expect to graduate must enter at the beginning of the school year. Those not wishing to graduate may enter at any time in the year.

Upon entrance pupils are examined, classified and placed in their fitting grade by the director.

Degrees and Certificates

Conservatory students may work toward a Bachelor of Music degree, a Diploma in Voice, Piano, Organ or Violin, a Teacher’s Certificate in Piano or Voice, a Certificate in Normal Training for Piano or Voice or a Certificate in Public School Music. College students may choose music as a major or minor subject. For credits allowed toward a college degree, see page 64.

Bachelor of Music Degree.—This degree will be recommended only to those who, when they enter college, have an unusual talent for Applied Music and who are desirous of reserving ample time for practice. They will then be allowed to obtain in music fifty of the one hundred and twenty-six credits required for graduation. Of these fifty credits, ten must be in Harmony, four in Form and Analysis, eight in Counterpoint, eight in Musical History and two in Composition. The remaining credits may be obtained entirely in Applied Music or in additional theoretical work. The candidate shall choose a major and minor in Applied Music. The entire course through the senior year must be completed in the major subject and at least two credits must be obtained in the minor subject. Those majoring in Piano, Organ or Violin must obtain two credits in Voice, and those majoring in Voice, four credits in Piano.

Credits in Applied Music will be based on the number of lessons taken, the number of hours of practice, and the work accomplished.
The candidate is expected to show marked ability for public performance by appearing frequently in student recitals and by giving at least three public recitals, from memory, of advanced difficulty. Credit toward the degree will be granted for recital work.

The following college subjects are required: English, six credits, Religious Education, eight credits, Foreign Language, fourteen credits (if deficient at entrance, three years), Music 151-152, four credits, Physics 101, two credits, Education, six credits, Philosophy, six credits, the remaining credits elective.

Bachelor of Arts Degree with Major in Music.—Any college student may elect music as a major or minor. The maximum number of credits allowed is thirty-two. A major requires ten credits in Harmony; a minor requires six credits in Harmony. Eight credits only are allowed in Applied Music.

Diploma of the Conservatory.—This diploma is awarded by the Conservatory to any student who completes the senior grade in any branch of Applied Music, together with the following theoretical work: twelve credits (two years) Harmony, six credits (one year) Form and Harmonic Analysis, four credits (one year) Counterpoint and four credits (one year) Musical History.

One public recital is to be given in the junior year and one in the senior year. At least one year in recital class is required. See Bachelor of Music course as to major and minor subjects.

This course is open to those who are not enrolled in the college.

Certificate of the Conservatory in Public School Music.—This certificate will be given to those who complete the two years' course in Public School Music Methods, two years of Harmony, one year of History of Music and one year of Voice. The Department of Education of the State of Minnesota grants a certificate to those who complete this course.

Certificate of the Conservatory in Normal Piano or Voice.—This certificate is granted to those who complete one year of Normal Training, together with two years of Harmony and one year of Musical History. The course may be completed in two years provided the student shows enough proficiency in the chosen branch of Applied Music.
Courses of Study

Theory

101-102. Elementary Harmony.—

The complete course in Harmony requires two years and is designed with the purpose of promoting the application and demonstration of theory in practice. The first semester is devoted to preparatory work in scale, interval, ear training and sight-singing. The text-books used are "Ear Training and Sight-Singing" by Wedge, and "The Theory and Practice of Tone Relations" by Goetschius.

One year, three hours a week, six credits.

201-202. Advanced Harmony.—

This course embraces a thorough study of the materials of Harmony and includes practical experimental work in elementary composition.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

301-302. Form and Harmonic Analysis.—

This includes analysis of harmonic structure and a study of form structure from the simple period to the larger complex types of musical composition. It is the purpose of the course to acquaint the student with the means and methods employed by the masters in the art-craft of music building.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

303-304. Simple Counterpoint.—

Two, three and four parts.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

305-306. Double Counterpoint.—

One year, two hours a week, four credits. Required for Bachelor of Music Degree.

103-104. History of Music.—

Music is one of the most vital forms of self-expression possessed by humanity. Musical art, as we enjoy it today, is the fruit of many centuries of evolutionary development. It is the function of history to trace this growth from its remote beginnings, on through its numerous intermediate stages, down to the present era. This course includes a broad and comprehensive survey of the entire field of Musical History, supplemented by special study of the chief branches of the art, and of the forms and instruments pertaining to each. The text-book used is "The History of Music" by Pratt. For research, our students have access to excellent reference works in the St. Paul and Minneapolis public libraries.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

203-204. Advanced History of Music.— MR. JENSEN
Special research work in various branches and periods of music. Required for Bachelor of Music Degree.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

105-106. Public School Music Methods.— MISS HECK
This course is devoted to the study and demonstration of methods and materials for the kindergarten and the first six grades. Special attention is given to the study of the child voice; rote singing; introduction of sight-reading; tonal and rhythmic problems; testing and classification of voices; music appreciation. Observation of classroom work is required.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

205-206. Advanced Public School Methods.— MISS HECK
This course is devoted to the study and demonstration of methods and materials for seventh and eighth grades, Junior and Senior High School. Special attention is given to three- and four-part music; the changed voice; conducting; chorus; glee club; harmony; courses in music. Observation and practice teaching required.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

107-108. Normal Training in Piano.— MISS YOUNG
A study of the principles underlying piano technic; modern methods of teaching piano. Special attention is given to the child's first lessons. Practice teaching required.

One year, two hours a week, four credits.

109-110. Recital Class.—
This class is intended to provide frequent and regular opportunity for practice in solo and ensemble performance. No matter how advanced the student nor how carefully prepared, there remains the difficulty of public appearance. The experience gained in this recital class is invaluable to the young concert performer.

One year, one hour a week, two credits.
307-308. Normal Training in Voice.— Mr. Phillips
This will constitute a vocal master class, intended for all students of voice (free to those majoring in voice and studying with the head of the department). Extended study and discussion of different vocal methods, the principles of correct tone production, vocal literature and the psychology of teaching music are among the features of this class. All students expecting to teach will be required to pass an examination on the physiological and mechanical construction of the vocal organs in relation to the correction of faulty intonation and tone production.
One year, one hour a week, two credits.

151-152. History of Fine Arts.— Miss Kohlhaupt
A study of the development of architecture, sculpture and painting thru the various periods of ancient, medieval and modern art. An effort is made to familiarize the student with the great masterpieces by means of photographs, stereopticon lectures and visits to the art galleries in St. Paul and Minneapolis.
One year, two hours a week, four credits.

309-310. Composition.— Mr. Fairclough
Writing in short vocal and instrumental form. Original pieces imitative of the style of various composers. Required for Bachelor of Music Degree.
One year, one hour a week, two credits.

Piano
Mr. Johnson, Mr. Fairclough, Mr. Jensen, and Miss Young
A candidate for entrance to the freshman year in piano should have a good knowledge of all scales and arpeggios and should present at least one movement from an easy sonata of Haydn, Mozart or Beethoven. Those who are deficient in entrance requirements must enter one of the preparatory grades. No college or conservatory credits are granted for these grades.

Students are expected to take two half-hour lessons a week, and practice at least two hours a day. If only one lesson a week is taken, it must be a forty-five minute period in order to earn credit.

Below is given a brief outline of technical work to be followed as closely as possible by the instructors. At the close of each semester, the student will be examined by the director upon the work of that semester as outlined, and progress toward completion of the course will be determined upon the result of that examination.
Freshman I.—Scales (major, harmonic, minor and chromatic) in 8th notes ......................... M. M. 72 quarters
Major and minor tonic triads and inversions.

Freshman II.—Scales in 8th notes .......... M. M. 100 quarters
Parallel and contrary motion.
Selections from French and English suites of Bach.

Sophomore I.—Scales in 16th notes ........ M. M. 72 quarters Thirds, sixths and tenths.

Sophomore II.—Scales in 16th notes ....... M. M. 90 quarters
Tonic triad arpeggios, parallel and contrary motion. Two-part Inventions of Bach.

Junior I.—Scales in 16th notes ............ M. M. 108 quarters
Dominant and diminished seventh chords, solid, broken and arpeggios.

Junior II.—Scales in 16th notes .......... M. M. 120 quarters
Octave scales. Review of previous work. Three-part Inventions of Bach. A public recital is required in this year.

Senior I.—Scales in 16th notes .......... M. M. 144 quarters
Double thirds and double sixths. Well-tempered Clavichord of Bach.

Senior II.—A graduation recital.

Voice

Instruction in vocal culture is based on the best points taken from all methods. Results are evident from the first lesson.

Freshman Year.—A study of the simplicity of breath control. A knowledge of vowels and consonants in their relation to the singing and speaking voice. Drill in tone production. Marzo, Concone, Sieber or Marchesi vocalizes. Songs of moderate difficulty.

Senior Year.—An extensive repertoire from best song literature. Performance of at least four complete roles from standard oratorios or operas. Senior recital. Practical experience in teaching.
Organ

Students, before taking up the study of the organ, should be able to play the piano reasonably well, at least music of an intermediate grade, such as the Czerny Velocity studies, Bach's Inventions, and the sonatas of Mozart and Haydn.

Freshman Year.—An instruction book is used, such as "The Technique and Art of Organ Playing" by Clarence Dickinson, "The Organ" by Stainer, or Clemens' "Modern School for the Organ." Great stress is made of the idea of laying a solid foundation for the future development of a finished organ technic.

Sophomore Year.—Such material as "Master Studies for the Organ" by Carl, Nilson's "Pedal Playing" are drawn upon. The easier works of Bach, from the Widor-Schweitzer edition, are thoroughly studied.

Third Year.—Continuation of the study of Bach's works, sonatas of Mendelssohn, Guilmant, and other examples of organ literature.

Fourth Year.—Further continuation of the study of Bach, more particularly the larger and more difficult works. The symphonies, sonatas, choral preludes, suites, concert overtures of such composers as Rheinberger, Merkel, Franck, Widor, Vierne, Karg-Elert, Hollins, etc., and the best compositions of many other writers for the organ, both ancient and modern, are used throughout the course.

The requirements of church service playing are continually kept in mind, and students are drilled in hymn playing and accompaniments of sacred solos or anthems.

Students may also get an insight into the requirements of playing for a moving picture.

Violin

Preparatory Grade.—Special attention in forming the positions of the violin and bow. Easy studies in the first position to suit capabilities of each pupil.

Credits are allowed on the same basis as for piano.

Recitals

A number of recitals are given at the Conservatory each year by advanced students and members of the faculty. All students of piano and voice are required to attend.

Concerts

Students of Macalester Conservatory have many opportunities to attend musical events in the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Chicago Opera Company visits St. Paul in the spring, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra gives sixteen concerts, membership in the Schubert Club of St. Paul and the Thursday Musicale of Minneapolis is open to students, and there are constant opportunities to attend recitals by the foremost artists of the country. Students are often able to get reduced rates.

Sorority

A chapter of the Sigma Alpha Iota sorority was installed at the Conservatory in 1923. All women students whose scholarship and musical attainments reach a satisfactory mark may join. It gives opportunity for social and musical events and for meeting members of other chapters. This sorority claims a wide membership, representing the highest accomplishments in music.

Preparatory Department

Macalester Conservatory has a large and flourishing Junior and Intermediate Department. Pupils are taken at any age or stage of advancement and may enter at any time. Our teachers have been required to take courses in Normal Training and to have made especial preparation for the instruction of children. Students who enter the Preparatory Department may look forward to completing the preparatory course in four years when upon examination they may be admitted to the college course.

For detailed information, apply to the Conservatory, corner of Summit and Cambridge Avenues.
Children's Classes
Classes of children in music essentials.
All classes, Saturday, 9:00 to 12:00.

Preparatory Voice
Young students wishing to take up elementary voice may get instruction at moderate rates from the advanced voice students of the Conservatory, who have had one year's normal training.

Terms
College students shall pay their bills for music courses at the college office at the beginning of each semester. Harmony, History of Music, Form and Analysis, Counterpoint and Normal Methods are included in the college tuition, but other subjects are to be paid for at the rates specified below.

Those students who wish to take music only without entering the college may enter at any time of the year and pay their tuition monthly upon receipt of bill therefor. Lessons in Applied Music alone vary from 75 cents to four dollars a half-hour lesson.

The following terms for lessons are based upon a semester of eighteen weeks.

Alumni Association

It will be esteemed a favor if each alumnus who changes his residence will notify the President of his new address. Information from any source that will assist in keeping this roll complete will be appreciated.

The Alumni Association of Macalester College has two purposes in view: to bind into a unit the graduate body and help to preserve and increase the value of the friendships formed in college, and to further the interests of Alma Mater and make her more widely known. Communications to the Alumni Association should be sent to the college.
