VII. STUDY PROGRAMS

INTENSIVE NEPALI -- SUMMER 1987 -- CORNELL UNIVERSITY

An eight-week course in Nepali will be offered June 15 - August 11 1987, by the Department of Languages and Linguistics at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York. This intensive, eight-credit course provides an unusual opportunity to obtain basic competence in the language in one summer. Emphasis is upon the spoken (colloquial) language, although attention will also be given to assisting students develop vocabularies appropriate to their professional fields as well. Reading and writing practice will use both colloquial and scholarly materials in the Nepali (devanagari) script. Students will spend four hours a day in class, two hours in the language lab, plus additional preparation time independently. Two U.S. Department of Education Fellowships are available through the South Asia Program and are open to U.S. citizens and permanent residents. For preliminary application materials, contact Bonnie MacDougall, Director, South Asia Program, 170 Uris Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853 (Phone: (607) 255-5110)
