His Holiness, the spiritual leader of the Tibetan people, will be in the Twin Cities as part of the Nobel Peace Prize Forum which takes place the day before his talk at Macalester. The Tibetan New Year, known as Losar, also begins on March 2.

“Macalester is very honored His Holiness has agreed to speak to our community in March,” said Acting President Kathleen Murray. “He lives his life striving for global peace and non-violence while promoting basic human values, compassion and understanding. We can all learn from his message.”

In 1989 he was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for his non-violent struggle for the liberation of Tibet. He has consistently advocated policies of non-violence, even in the face of extreme aggression. He also became the first Nobel Laureate to be recognized for his concern for global environmental problems.

His Holiness has travelled to more than 67 countries spanning 6 continents. He has received over 150 awards and has also authored or co-authored more than 110 books.

Macalester College, founded in 1874, is a national liberal arts college with a full-time enrollment of 2,011 students. Macalester is nationally recognized for its long-standing commitment to academic excellence, internationalism, multiculturalism, and civic engagement.
