Bulletin

Editorial Policy and Guide for Contributors

The Himalayan Research Bulletin publishes original articles, current news, short notes, book reviews, reports of meetings, dissertation abstracts, and professional announcements, and other information of scholarly and research interest in all fields relevant to the Himalayan Areas of Asia.

Material submitted to the Bulletin must be in English; spellings and usage should conform to the Webster's English Dictionary. Authors must take full responsibility for the originality, contents and opinions expressed in their writing. Authors must get permission for the publication or reproduction of copyrighted material where appropriate and to make proper acknowledgements. It will be assumed that papers submitted are original and have not been published elsewhere. Exceptions may be made for papers or abstracts of papers published in a language other than English.

Manuscripts should be typed, and all pages should be numbered. The title of the paper, authors' names and affiliations, and complete addresses should appear on the first page. References should be listed at the end of the paper without numbering, alphabetically by author, giving the complete unabbreviated source citation. Format and style should follow current issues of the journal. It is the authors' responsibility to ensure that references are correct. Maps, line drawings and diagrams should be ready for publication. The top of each illustration should be clearly indicated. Black and white glossy photographs may be published in some instances. They should be submitted unmounted and be suitable for half-tone reduction.

Authors of articles will receive three copies of the issue within which their article appears. Additional copies can be purchased from the editors.

Readers are invited to submit high quality black and white photographs for publication on the cover.

We depend upon the continuing voluntary submission of material from member subscribers. Please direct manuscripts and correspondence to:
