Banskota, Narrotam Prasad
1981 Indo-Nepal Trade and Economic Relations

267 pages, tables. The author describes the structural changes in Indo-Nepal trade and economic relations, emphasizing the trade structure that has emerged with the growth in trade with overseas countries. He reviews trade treaties in the framework of broad trade objectives, elaborating on Nepal's trade with overseas countries and also touching on unauthorised trade. Trade instability is indicated as a cause of the low degree of diversification in Nepal. The author identifies some key trade problems and makes suggestions for boosting Indo-Nepal trade. Published by B.R. Publication Corporation, Delhi.

New Activity Unit on Nepal for Teachers

The Urban Education Program in Chicago has created an activity unit called Nepal: From Kathmandu to Mt. Everest for use in teaching children in grades 5-12. Designed with a global focus, this unit helps students to investigate Nepal, its geography, history and people by highlighting its contrasts and comparisons with approximately 36 other countries of the world. Geared for middle school through secondary level, the material is divided into teacher-directed activities and independent or small group exercises which can be performed by students on their own.

Charting, mapping, working with the Nepalese language, performing mathematical conversions and vocabulary-building are typical skills included in the activities. More difficult problem-solving skills are addressed through such activities such as that on deforestation and industrial development in Nepal today. A global jigsaw game introduces the unit. Activities on Nepalese culture are presented as supplementary.

This unit was presented at a teaching workshop at the 11th Annual Conference on South Asia in Madison, Wisconsin.

To order Nepal: From Kathmandu to Mt. Everest, send $7.95 for each copy of the unit that you want (includes postage and handling), along with your name and address, to:

Urban Education Program
420 W. Wrightwood
Chicago, Illinois 60614

Checks should be payable to Urban Education Program. The teaching unit will be available starting in May of this year.

Cottage Industry Export Development Project

Cottage Industry Export Development Project (CIED) of Trade Promotion Centre of His Majesty's Government in Nepal, with a credit from International Development Association (IDA) of the World Bank and technical assistance of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) has launched a three-year project. The project aims to develop cottage industry for employment generation, to supplement farm income of rural people, diversify and expand non-traditional export of Nepal and help earn valuable foreign exchange.

As part of this project, CIED has recently begun publishing the Cottage Industry Quarterly. CIED will mail this bulletin free of charge on a regular basis to anyone interested in cottage industries and handicrafts. CIED also welcomes any articles or publications that are of interest towards the export development of Nepalese cottage industries.

Publications of the Nepal Research Centre

The Nepal Research Centre (NRC), founded in 1967, is a research institute which undertakes, sponsors, and assists various research projects in Nepal in the areas of the humanities and social sciences as well as the natural and applied sciences. The NRC operates in close contact with Tribhuvan University and supports the cooperation and exchange of ideas among scholars. The NRC publishes a journal and a variety of monographs, papers and maps, all in English.

The Journal of the Nepal Research Centre is devoted to Nepalese culture. The journal appears annually, and Volume 5/6 (1981/2) is now in press. Besides scholarly articles, Volume 5/6 will include progress reports on several research projects, including projects under the auspices of the Nepal Research Programme, which is financed by the German Research Association. From Volume 5/6 onwards, the journal will contain the Nepalese National Bibliography of works relating to and published in Nepal. The editors of the journal are German and Nepalese scholars. Back issues are available, and complimentary copies will be sent to libraries upon request.

The NRC has the following monographs, papers and maps available:

1. "Ordered Space, Concepts and Functions in a Town of Nepal," by N. Gutschow and B. Koelver, Kathmandu 1975 (monograph).
2. "Puspasutra, Prapathakas 1-2," edited by B. R. Sharma, Kathmandu 1979 (monograph).

Tibetan Buddhism: Preserving the Monastic Tradition, color film, 29 minutes.

Directed, written and filmed by Dr. Edward W. Bastian. This film focuses on the traditional monastic career preserved by Tibetan Buddhist monks of Sera Monastery in Mysore State, South India. The film observes a boy's decision to enter the monastery and his family's influence on that decision. Providing subtitled translations of the Tibetan language, it documents the boy's ordination ceremony and observes his future career through the daily lives of other monks. It observes daily manual activities. It documents and explains the style and content of Sera's scholarly curriculum beginning with reading and writing, through attaining the degree of Geshe, up to the study and practice of the Buddhist Tantras. The film concludes with an overview of the study and practice of the Buddhist Tantras at Gyudmed monastery.

Tibetan Buddhism, Part II, videotape, 30 minutes. An untranslated, unsubtitled documentation of the content and pedagogical method followed by Tibetan Buddhist Gelugpa monasteries. Contact Educational Communications (address and phone above)

Kalacakra Initiation, videotape series, 16½ hours. An archival video series with subtitled annotations and written video index of the preparations for, and initiation into, the Kalacakra (Cycle of Time) Tantra, Tibet's most famous religious event, as conferred by His Holiness the Dalai Lama of Tibet at Deer Park, Wisconsin in July 1981. The first 2½ hours contain segments of the preparation for the Kalacakra Initiation. The remaining 14 hours contain the unedited Kalacakra Initiation.
