Greetings M Clubbers!
Thank you for your commitment to athletics at Macalester and to the M Club. I am so proud of the successes we have shared, the gains we have made, and the plans we have established for another outstanding year. Your support helps us to fulfill our mission: to support current athletes, honor and recognize all Macalester athletes for their achievements today and in years past, work with others in the Macalester community to help whenever we can, and become a visible group on campus with everyone knowing who we are and what we’re about.

Your support for this year’s M Club Fund Drive exemplifies the dedication we share. Once again, we have let the college know that we believe in the significance of an athletic experience at Macalester with a major increase in contributions, reaching a record $103,700! Of course this could not happen without teamwork and the hard work of you, the M Club members.

Macalester has hired Jason Muhl as men’s tennis coach and Jeannine Ruh as women’s basketball coach and has made permanent Tom Cross’s interim appointment as softball coach.

As interim softball coach this past season, Coach Cross—who continues as assistant football coach—led the Scots to a 7-21-1 finish overall and 5-17 in the league. He coached softball and football at Concordia University in St. Paul for 15 years before joining Macalester. Concordia won every Upper Midwest Athletic Conference championship between 1983 and 1991 and was a regular participant in the NAIA playoffs. Cross was twice named UMAC Coach of the Year.

of certain individuals. I salute those M Club members who made phone calls during the fund drive along with committee chair Tracy Eichorn-Hicks ’72, college advancement officer and Assistant Men’s Basketball Coach Eric Solberg, and especially my former soccer teammate, Mac Trustee Dave Deno ’79, whose vision and belief were the driving force behind our success. Most of all, thank you for your participation and generosity, which will allow us to accomplish our goals in a manner you too will be proud of.

This past winter the president of the Student Athletic Committee, May Lin Kessenich ’05, attended a board meeting wondering if the M Club could help current athletes explore options for professions after Macalester. This was all it took to get our wheels turning. M Club will host a “What’s Out There?” event in early November inviting athletes and their friends to meet M Club members, who will talk about what professions they’re in and what was necessary to get them there. If you’d like to become involved as a resource, let me know (steve.cox@spps.org) and I’ll get you in touch with our board organizers Karen Moen ’88, Ian McRoberts ’96 and Rachel Hable ’95.

Congratulations to this year’s M Club Hall of Fame inductees: Henry Buelow ’56, Nelson (Shasha) Jumbe ’94, Jane Ruliffson ’92 and Jennifer Tonkin ’93. Also, congratulations to the 2003–04 Athletes of the Year, Lisa Bauer ’04 and Ben Van Thorre ’04. These M Clubbers will be honored October 15 at our annual Hall of Fame banquet. I encourage you to attend this outstanding event.

M Club continues the successful “Meet the Coach” luncheon series in September with volleyball coach Stephanie Schleuder and men’s cross country coach Matt Haugen and a student-athlete from each of their teams.

Please join us on Thursday, Sept. 9, from noon to 1 p.m. in the Board Room of Weyerhaeuser Hall, 62 Macalester Street (the former library). There is no charge for lunch.

This luncheon series began last year as a way to connect alumni with current coaches and student-athletes, along with others who support Mac Athletics. Coaches and students talk about their day-to-day preparations as well as the season ahead.

To enjoy a free lunch and program, RSVP by Sept. 3 to Eric Solberg: solberge@macalester.edu or (651) 696-6476.

All-America athletes Ben Van Thorre ’04 (Minneapolis, Minn.), basketball, and Lisa Bauer ’04 (Woodbury, Minn.), soccer and softball, are the 2003–04 M Club Athletes of the Year.

The second All-American in Mac basketball history, Ben Van Thorre led the Scots to their best season in over 20 years, with an 18-9 record and a berth in the conference tournament title game. He was named MIAC Player of the Year after leading the conference in both scoring and rebounding. Van Thorre is Macalester’s all-time leader in scoring with 1,707 points and rebounding with 722 boards. He reached double figures in scoring 89 times in 102 career games and is a six-time MIAC Player of the Week.

Lisa Bauer was a three-time All-America goalkeeper and four-time All-MIAC selection in soccer, and she finished with 42 career shutouts. In four years Bauer posted a 51-10-9 won-loss record with a 0.48 goals against average and as a senior she led the team to the MIAC playoff title and the national playoffs. In softball she was among the league’s best defensive shortstops, often using her goalkeeping skills to make acrobatic plays. As a junior she earned honorable mention all-conference after hitting .315 and leading the team in runs scored.

MEN’S SOCCER

Macalester’s men’s soccer team won its third straight MIAC championship and sixth in seven years with a stellar 2003 season under head coaches John Leaney and Ian Barker. Going 8-0-2 in the league, the Scots posted their third straight unbeaten MIAC campaign, something no one else has ever achieved.

All-American and MIAC Player of the Year Nathan Knox graduated and he’ll be hard to replace, but nine starters and several key regulars return to give Macalester one of its most experienced teams ever. All-MIAC defender Mike Dannenberg (Sr., Brookline, Mass.) and All-MIAC midfielder Robb Swick (Sr., Fond-du-lac, Wis.) return to lead the way, while midfielder Andrew Wissler (Jr., Annandale, Va.) was an honorable mention All-MIAC pick.

Joe Wertz (Jr., St. Paul, Minn.) led last season’s team in goals with nine and assists with five, and the speedy forward should again be a dangerous threat. Wertz is joined up front by veteran goal-scorers Brendan Viele (Sr., Shoreview, Minn.) and Magnus Oppenheimer (So., Stockholm, Sweden).

The Scots lose just two starters, so it will be difficult for newcomers to crack the lineup. Coaches Barker and Leaney will look for productivity from four other midfielders and defenders who started at least 10 games last year: Stuart Peacock (Sr., Houston, Tex.), Eric Nordstrom (Sr., Mukwonago, Wis.), Alex Stanko (Jr., Princeton, N.J.) and Ian Ritz (Jr., Ames, Iowa).

WOMEN’S SOCCER

Macalester won five straight MIAC championships before coming up short the past two years and with a veteran group returning is eager to reclaim the crown in ’04. The Scots went 7-2-2 in MIAC play last year but won the league’s inaugural post-season playoffs to reach the NCAA Division III championships for the seventh time in nine years under head coach John Leaney. The Scots have dropped just 16 MIAC games in his 15 years at Mac; they have gone 215-53-19 and have taken six conference crowns.

The fight for the championship will be challenging once again as the MIAC has emerged as one of the country’s best and deepest women’s soccer leagues. Although Mac graduated a strong senior class, Leaney has great faith in his squad. The Scots figure to be a more productive goal-scoring team this season. Annie Borton (So., Berkeley, Calif.) was one of the league’s top newcomers a year ago while leading the Scots with 10 goals scored. Alice Hacker (Sr., Portland, Ore.) is coming off a seven-goal season while Katie Pastorius (Jr., Arden Hills, Minn.) had five goals and nine assists. Borton and Hacker are all-conference performers, as is midfielder Sarah Marsh (Sr., Lincoln, Neb.). Marsh joins Jessica Bulson (Sr., Ashland, Ore.) and Meghan Leahey (Jr., Plymouth, Minn.) to give the team some reliable midfield play, while veteran Erin Hoople (Sr., Rockford, Ill.) leads the charge in the back.

FOOTBALL

After posting a .500 record a couple of years ago, the Scots are looking to bounce back from a 1-8 record going into their third season as a football independent. The Scots’ nine-game schedule kicks off Sept. 4 at home against Beloit. They’ll play five Midwest Conference teams, three MIAC teams and fellow independent Colorado College. The Scots graduated six key starters but several players from a good recruiting class should be able to step in.

The Scots have passed for an average of 217 yards a game over the past five seasons and with the return of standout quarterback Adam Denny (Sr., Preston, Minn.), Mac’s aerial attack should again be key to the team’s success. Before going down with a season-ending hand injury, Denny completed 55% of his passes for 1,518 yards in six games. As a sophomore, he threw for 2,024 yards and 12 touchdowns to lead the Scots to their best record in more than 15 years. Four starters return to the offensive line to provide protection as Denny looks for veteran receivers like Tim Burns (Jr., McFarland, Wis.), Jared Hillman (Jr., Minneapolis, Minn.) and Steve Schaub (Jr., Woodstock, Vt.). Burns is the leading returning receiver after catching 27 passes for 288 yards and two scores. Hillman caught 26 passes for 349 yards and Schaub caught 25 for 236. Returning starters to the offensive line are Justin Enwall (Jr., Lakeville, Minn.), Austin McCartney-Melstad (Jr., Monticello, Minn.), George Robbins (So., Milwaukee, Wis.) and Alan Berner (Jr., Grantsburg, Wis.).

Burns is also a key defensive player; he led the team with 72 tackles and six interceptions as cornerback and was among the national leaders in passes defended with 1.5 per game. Linebacker Dan Haley (So., Bend, Ore.) was second with 65 tackles. Four-year starter Ty Wetzel (Jr., Grand Island, Neb.) returns to lead the defensive line.
Volleyball

Macalester took on a most difficult schedule a year ago and finished at 19-10, with over half the losses coming at the hands of teams ranked in the top 25 nationally in the final NCAA Division III poll. Mac won tournaments hosted by Augsburg and Pomona-Pitzer. Some tough losses in the competitive MIAC kept the team from getting into the post-season league playoffs, something Macalester is hoping to achieve this fall. Another good season is anticipated, but Mac must replace a pair of four-year starters in middle hitter Carley Bomstad and setter Sarah Graves. One of the program’s top players ever, Bomstad was a four-time All-MIAC pick and last year received honorable mention All-America honors.

Seventh-year head coach Stephanie Schleuder is optimistic and has plenty of key players returning, led by two-time MIAC Defensive Player of the Year May Lin Kessenich (Sr., Milford, Conn.), who provided 5.6 digs per game as the team’s libero. Kessenich led the conference in digs as a sophomore and ranked third last year. Several reliable and improving front row players return with good hitting and blocking potential, including Lauren Eberhart (So., Madelia, Minn.), Bethany Tate (Sr., Charlotte, N.C.) and Maggie Buttermore (Jr., Lincoln, Neb.).

Women’s Cross Country

The cross country team finished sixth out of 12 teams last year at the MIAC championships, with Koby Hagen (Jr., Minneapolis, Minn.) winning the individual championship. Hagen continued to lead the distance runners in track, becoming the first Mac woman to win the conference 1500-meter race since 1987, and she is looking forward to a big junior season. Macalester was one of two conference teams to score in all five distance events at the MIAC championships. Captains Francie Streich (Jr., Lincoln, Neb.) and Anna Gordon (Jr., Eugene, Ore.) are coming off of fourth- and seventh-place conference track finishes last spring in the 5000-meter run. They will join captains Joan Bennett (Sr., Woodbury, Minn.) and Johanna Nice (Sr., The Woodlands, Tex.), who are returning from semesters abroad.

Macalester will rely heavily on the junior class, which includes Hagen, Streich, Gordon, Caroline Barnes (Cleveland Heights, Ohio), Nathalia Brashear (San Jose, Calif.) and Emily Stafford (Burnsville, Minn.). Barnes was sixth in the MIAC last spring in the 10,000 meters.

Men’s Cross Country

MIAC Coach of the Year Matt Haugen led the Scots to their best conference finish in 17 years last year, when Macalester placed fourth in the league. With nearly everyone back in ’04, this should be a special season for the Scots. Macalester posted a conference meet team score of 100 last season, its lowest since 1971, and returns four veteran runners who all placed in the top thirty in the MIAC. If some recruits step in and make the transition to collegiate competition quickly, the Scots could be one of the MIAC’s top teams.

All-MIAC four-year standout Bo Rydze (Sr., Iowa City, Iowa) placed 13th at last year’s conference championships and is coming off a productive track campaign. Four teammates came within :34 of Rydze’s 26:22 MIAC finish. Roscoe Sopikwik (Jr., Frederic, Wis.), Eric Olson (Sr., Faribault, Minn.) and Jordan Selbo (Jr., Amherst, Mass.) earned honorable mention all-conference honors by placing 16th, 18th and 25th, respectively. Tom Hammer (So., Ithaca, N.Y.) was one of the MIAC’s top newcomers last fall and took 28th place at the conference meet.

Men’s & Women’s Golf

Both the men’s and women’s golf teams expect to take steps forward this fall under coach Martha Nause. The men played some good golf last fall and spring but are looking to do better at the conference meet this fall than at last season’s championships. The Scots feature one of the MIAC’s most consistent golfers in Kramer Lawson (Sr., Holly Springs, S.C.), who has been Mac’s low scorer in every meet over the last two years. Lawson, who had four top-ten finishes last fall and two in big spring meets, could be among the MIAC’s top players. Teammate Eric Kelsey (So., Hilton Head, S.C.) put together some big tournaments as one of the MIAC’s top newcomers last year and in the spring tied Lawson for the team lead at the Wartburg Invitational. On the women’s side, the Scots are looking for improvement after featuring a lineup of first-years last year. All four returners should be better as sophomores and Coach Nause is expecting some contributions from new recruits. Kylie Thomson (So., Seattle, Wash.) and Grace Arnold (So., Iowa City, Iowa) were the team’s first and second golfers, respectively, in nearly every tournament last year.

M CLUB DONOR ROSTER

breaks all-time record

The 2003–2004 M Club Fund Drive reached the 6-figure mark for the first time ever, raising $103,800. This breaks the all-time record of $96,000 set last year. “Each and every Macalester student-athlete and coach thanks those who participated in this year’s M Club Fund Drive,” said Athletic Director Irv Cross. “Your gifts are an investment in our student-athletes and the quality of their experience at Macalester.” M Club gifts enable Mac teams to do things that they may not be able to without this support, such as team travel and coaches’ recruiting trips.

MAC HAC

brings them back

The annual Mac Hac brought 98 golfers to Keller Golf Course on a great day in June. These are the results:

Blue Flight winners with a score of 60 were Mark Aboud, Ross Hoaglund, Travis Meldahl and Mike Kurvers. Second place with a score of 62 (won on a playoff) were Tom Otteson, Ed Laine, John Curlee and Ed Laube.

White Flight winners with a score of 63 were Dan Keyser, Gary Erickson, Keith Williams and Jim Rudder. Second place with a score of 64 were Chuck Standfuss, Craig Aase, Dave Busse and Bill Ryan.

WHAT’S A ‘LIBERO’?

In our Outlook story about volleyball, May Lin Kesenich is identified as the team’s libero. Those who follow the sport know that last season, the NCAA added this position to women’s volleyball; it had previously been used in international play and in men’s volleyball. The libero (pronounced lee-bah-ro) serves as a ball-control specialist and an extra defensive player. The player must remain in the back row and wear a jersey of a different color from her teammates. She is not allowed to serve, block or attempt to block.

Skiing becomes a club sport

Macalester’s men’s and women’s Nordic skiing has returned from a varsity intercollegiate sport to a club-level team. “Macalester is making the change as part of college-wide budget cuts and because Nordic skiing is being eliminated as an MIAC-sponsored sport,” said Athletic Director Irv Cross. “It is our intent to have a viable club sport program in order to offer our students a full and meaningful athletic experience.”

Nordic skiing began as a club team at Macalester in 1995–96 and became a varsity team the next year. Coach Morey Nellis will remain as club sports director and will coach the club ski team. Nellis will also serve as men’s tennis coordinator, in charge of administrative operations.
