The away team
“The Graduate School of Library and Information Science at the University of Illinois is looking for library web sites that need help designing/redesigning their site.

Teams of graduate students from the Web Design for Organizations class will be redesigning web sites as part of the course curriculum.”

About Darrell W. Krueger Library

Located less than a mile from the Mississippi River at Winona, Minnesota, Darrell W. Krueger Library is the main library of Winona State University. The Krueger Library is a resource for the Winona Community, and the greater south central Minnesota region.

Construction on the building was completed in the academic year of 1999-2000. Winona State University held a dedication ceremony on September 17, 2000, with President Darrell W. Krueger. The Winona Daily News reported that the event was attended by Winona residents, Winona State University students, and a large group of Winona State University faculty and staff

Construction on the building was completed in the academic year of 1999-2000. Winona State University held a dedication ceremony on September 17, 2000, with President Darrell W. Krueger. The Winona Daily News reported that the event was attended by Winona residents, Winona State University students, and a large group of Winona State University faculty and staff.

The Krueger Library has over 479,855 print and electronic collections, including books, journals, and databases and is a U.S. Federal Depository Library providing Federal government resources. In addition, the library has a collection of over 100,000 government publications.

The Darrell W. Krueger Library is an excellent place for researching, studying, and group work. It has a great collection of scholarly materials - articles, books, and journals. If the library doesn’t have what you need, you can request it from another library via Interlibrary Loan.

If you need help getting started with your research, visit the Reference Desk and a librarian will be there to assist you.
