March 2014

Back Inside Cover

Saori Ogura

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.macalester.edu/himalaya

Recommended Citation

Available at: http://digitalcommons.macalester.edu/himalaya/vol33/iss1/37

HIMALAYA publishes interdisciplinary and transregional work from the natural and social sciences as well as the humanities and creative arts. Works include original research articles, field reports, book and film reviews, conference reports, photo essays and literature from across the region. All original research articles undergo rigorous double-blind peer review.

Our membership is made up of a diverse group of scholars, students, professionals, practitioners, and institutions from around the world. The editorial board is similarly wide-ranging, bringing together unique international perspectives from historians, geographers, and anthropologists to ethnomusicologists, specialists in Himalayan languages and literatures, and conservation-development professionals. Through these many perspectives, the journal strives to support work that encourages intellectual and cultural exchange.

The current volume is the first in the history of the journal that has been published simultaneously online and in print, making HIMALAYA a true open access journal. We are confident that the move to full-open access—with no moving wall or embargo—will widen access to the excellent scholarship contained within the pages of the journal. HIMALAYA’s new website and journal redesign can be seen at himalajournal.org. A complete archive of all back issues is generously hosted by colleagues at the Macalester College Library.

HIMALAYA’s new website and journal redesign can be seen at himalajournal.org. A complete archive of all back issues is generously hosted by colleagues at the Macalester College Library. Digital commons. The new website can be found at digitalcommonsmacalester.edu/himalaya. You can also find us on Twitter and Facebook. Please consider connecting with us online.

The Journal of the Association for Nepal and Himalayan Studies

Editors
Sierra Craig, Dartmouth College, USA
Mark Turin, Yale University, USA
Shri exhibition, USA

Executive Editor
Jessica Venturin Birkenholtz, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, USA

Editorial Associate
Jacki Betsworth, Macalester College, USA

Editorial Assistant
Nathan W. Hill, SOAS, University of London, UK

Reviews Editor
Mark Turin, Dartmouth College, USA

Cover art: Saori Ogura, see Gallery starting on page 5.

The benefits of membership in ANHS include:

- Access to online journal: The journal is available online at himalajournal.org.
- Access to archives: The complete archive of all back issues is generously hosted by colleagues at the Macalester College Library.
- Annual membership meeting: Membership in ANHS includes an annual membership meeting, which includes a keynote address and networking opportunities.
- Conference discounts: Members receive discounts on conference fees.
- Travel grants: ANHS provides travel grants for ANHS members to attend conferences and workshops.
- Book awards: ANHS presents book awards to recognize excellence in scholarship.
- Fellowships: ANHS offers fellowships to support research and travel.
- Journal subscriptions: Members receive a subscription to HIMALAYA, the open access, interdisciplinary, and transregional journal.
- Digital Commons: Members have access to the Digital Commons platform, which includes a comprehensive collection of resources.
- Newsletters: Members receive the ANHS newsletter, which includes news, announcements, and regularly updated resources pages.
- Membership information: Members have access to the membership information page, which includes information about membership benefits and membership renewal.

For more information, visit anhs-himalaya.org/membership. All questions about membership should be directed to membership@anhs-himalaya.org.