parameters, there were no situations where the AKWUA Strategy was not effective. More detailed work still needs to be done with sensitivity and examination of some of the basic assumptions. The effects of certain stochastic inputs such as water availability have yet to be studied. Until this further work is done, care should be exercised in attempting to apply the AKWUA Strategy to situations which may differ significantly from the context in which it was developed.

Course on Nepal

Linda Iltis, Affiliate Assistant Professor in the Jackson School of International Studies, will teach a course on Nepal: Religion and Society in the spring quarter, 1989. The course will focus on concepts and practices relating to self, society, and cosmos in Hindu, Buddhist, and other religious traditions in Nepal.

REQUEST FOR HELP FOR THE NEPAL EARTHQUAKE RELIEF

A powerful earthquake measuring 6.7 on the Richter scale caused severe damage to all the districts of the Eastern Development Region and a few districts of the Central Development Regions of Nepal on August 21, 1988.

- 750 people died, the numbers increasing even now.
- 5,000 people were injured, some seriously. They need help.
- 25,000 -30,000 homes, usually the only possession of families, were lost.

Government employees are donating 1% of their income for assistance. Help has come from all over the world. We, the Nepal-loving people, could really help at this time of the greatest need to our brethren. Please remember that even a small token of goodwill means a lot back home. Possibilities are:

1. Tax deductible donations can be mailed to the Association of Nepalis in the Americas -c/o Mrs. Patricia Thakur, Treasurer, 3445 Craigmore Ave., Toledo, O H , 3614 (tel: 419-385-0543)
2. Medical supplies can be mailed -c/o Earthquake Relief Fund, The Red Cross, Kathmandu, Nepal.
3. Clean clothes and other household items can be mailed to Nepal Red Cross.

THANK YOU.
